2-Alarm Blaze Guts Lodge Hall

More Than 40 Firemen Battle Fire In Old Cotner Masonic Building

By DEL HARDING
Star Staff Writer

A spectacular two-alarm fire late Wednesday afternoon devastated the interior of the old Cotner Masonic Lodge building at 1549 No. Cotner, in the heart of the Bethany business district.

More than 40 firemen fought the blaze for more than an hour before it was extinguished. Assistant Fire Chief Henry Spahn said the fire apparently started at the rear of the first floor of the unoccupied two-story frame structure, but the cause was undetermined.

No one was injured in the blaze, but fireman Clarence Zicafoose of 820 So. 30th was nearly overcome by smoke as he fought the fire from a ladder against the front of the building. He was helped to safety and after resting a few minutes rejoined the fire fighters.

500 Spectators

Several firemen were sprayed with water and debris and so were about a dozen spectators. More than 500 persons watched the blaze, which could be seen spewing smoke into the sky from as far away as 48th and Vine.

The inside of the lodge was heavily damaged, but the second floor and roof did not collapse. Fire damage extended to several apartments above Armstrong's Grocery next door. Water poured from both the grocery and lodge as firemen battled the blaze.

The Custom Air Conditioning Co. had started to remodel the structure for use as an office, according to Fred Sikyta, owner of the company. He said he was in the process of purchasing the building from the Bethany Masonic Lodge.

He declined to estimate the damage of the fire, but said he thought, from brief preliminary examination, that it was less than $10,000. Some tools and materials to be used in the remodeling were in the building at the time of the fire, but he did not know the extent of damage to them. The building was partially covered by insurance, Sikyta reported.

Firemen Praised

Welfare and Safety Director Emmett Junge, who was at the scene, praised the firemen for confining the blaze to the lodge and upper story of the grocery. The lodge is separated by a three-foot space on the north from the Bethany branch library, a brick structure.

On the south it is flanked by the grocery, the Bethany Cafe, Glass' Grocery and a branch telephone company. All except the telephone structure, which is brick, are two-story frame structures.

The first alarm was reported at 5:12 p.m. and the second alarm turned in five minutes later. Firemen appeared to have the blaze under control several times but it would break out again in a different place. Finally at 6:15 p.m. the firemen extinguished the last of the flames.

Six Fire Rigs

Water and debris covered the sidewalks in the area and criss-crossed fire hoses made footing difficult. Four fire engines and two hook and ladder trucks were called to the scene.

Fire Chief Paul Feaster was representing the local fire department at a Seward, Neb., banquet and the fire fighting operations were supervised by Assistant Chief Spahn.

Lincoln's last two-alarm fire was Jan. 11 when the Holy Trinity Episcopal Church at 12th and J was razed by an early-morning blaze.

The Red Cross reported the apartments above Armstrong's Grocery were occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Roland Day and their three children, Mrs. May Kaeding and her son Robert, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd J. Winter. None was injured and all found places to stay with friends or relatives.

40-Hour Week Is Okayed

Bill Moves To Unicam Floor

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

A bill to permit a 40-hour week for most state employes and another which would allow overtime pay for salaried state employes were advanced Wednesday by the Legislature's Labor and Public Welfare Committee.

LB 100, the 40-hour work week bill, was advanced by a 5-2 vote, and LB 396, which would provide the overtime pay for salaried employes who exceed their fixed number of hours, was advanced by a 4-3 vote.

Sen. John P. Munnelly of Omaha was the principal introducer of both measures.

Competition Cited

Ted Fontaine of Lincoln, representative of the Nebraska State Council of Public Employes, speaking on LB 100, said the present law requiring a minimum work week of 44 hours works a hardship on the state which competes with private industry's 40-hour week in seeking employes.

He said that 24 of the state's 34 departments have stated they could go to a 40-hour week without hiring additional personnel.

Fontaine reported Nebraska was the only one of the 48 states which does not have a 40-hour week in at least some of its departments.

He contended passage of the bill would put the state on a "business-like basis," save money by cutting down on turnover, and be a definite incentive to work harder.

Veto Mentioned

Gordon Preble of Omaha, representing the AFL-CIO, referred to the 1953 session of the Legislature when a similar bill was passed but vetoed by Gov. Robert Crosby.

Preble said it was rumored then that the Governor had vetoed it because (Lincoln's) "O" Street business places had said if the state passed such a bill, they too would be forced to go to 40 hours." Preble said those establishments now have a 40-hour work week.

He said that in the past 30 years the state "has become a training ground for private industry with the result that there is continual turnover which is just costing more money."

Dwight Williams, director of the State Merit System Council, said the state's 44-hour work week presents a problem of recruitment because many people are not interested in state employment if they have to work Saturday mornings.

No Opposition

No one appeared in opposition to either measure.

Speaking on LB 396, Fontaine cited the Highway Department as one in which employes have to work many hours of overtime without compensation.

He said the highway department's accelerated road program "demanded by the taxpayers and by the passage of federal programs," will and does require engineers to work 55 to 60 hours a week.

Revamped Mideast Resolution Okayed

Demo Committeemen Rewrite Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — A revamped Middle Eastern resolution, proclaiming the readiness of the United States to fight Communist aggression in the strategic area if President Eisenhower deems that necessary, was approved Wednesday by two powerful Senate committees.

Democrats did a sweeping rewrite job on a key section of the Eisenhower resolution at a joint session of the Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committee.

Stricken out was language "authorizing" Eisenhower to use armed forces in the Middle East, but sponsors of the change quickly explained this was not done with the idea of denying him this power. On the contrary, they contended he already has the power, and Congress cannot constitutionally give him something he possesses.

The new language, it was explained by Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn), puts the responsibility up to Eisenhower for triggering any armed U. S. action in the Middle East, while serving advance notice that Congress is back of him.

There was no immediate comment from the State Department, but speculation Wednesday night was that the administration would probably raise no strenuous objection. Secretary Dulles indicated during hearings that the administration was not wedded to the exact language of its resolution; that what was wanted was a marked display of national unity to discourage Communist aggression.

On the issue of rewriting the military section of the resolution the vote was 15-13, with all Democratic members of the committees favoring the change and all Republicans against it.

"Authorized"

Then the committees approved the revamped resolution, 20-8.

The resolution, as proposed by the administration and passed by the House said that the President "is authorized to employ the armed forces of the United States as he deems necessary to secure and protect the territorial integrity and political independence of any such (Middle Eastern) nation or group of nations requesting such aid against overt armed aggression from any nation controlled by international communism. . ."

IKE PLEASED

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP)—The White House said Wednesday President Eisenhower believes a resolution approved by two Senate committees "is designed to give the President the authority he asked for" in his Middle East program.

COUNTY STILL HAS SOIL BANK MONEY LEFT

Although 24 counties had already requested and received additional funds which exhausted the state's reserve, Lancaster County officials reported enough soil bank funds left here to last until about Friday noon.

The County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office reported it has signed 417 agreements with farmers for the corn soil bank program.

Wednesday night the office reported $224,361.80 had been allocated of a total $369,054 originally allowed the county.

Rest Home Blazes

13 Hurt, Others Escape

Flames Spread Swiftly After Alarm Given

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia. (AP) — Fourteen persons were dead Wednesday night in the wake of a fire that enveloped a 71-year-old rest home with startling speed.

Thirteen of the victims died in the rear area of the Hilltop Building, many of them helpless in their beds as the flames roared through the three - story frame home.

A fourteenth patient died Wednesday night in a hospital. Another patient was in serious condition.

There was some confusion among authorities at the scene as to whether a 15th person might be missing. As a consequence, even though 13 of the 14 known dead had been identified, officials were not sure of the last body's identity.

Seventeen patients, including the fourteenth victim and the remaining seriously burned woman, 10 employes and three children of home manager Kenneth Patin managed to get out of the flaming building which in the words of Fire Chief Waldo Merrill was enveloped "all of a sudden."

The cause of the fire was undetermined Wednesday night as Iowa State Fire Marshal E. J. Herron, who flew here from Des Moines, and Chief Merrill dug into the mass of tangled hospital beds, smashed beams and other debris.

There was some speculation late Wednesday that a cigarette smoked by an elderly woman had triggered the blaze. However Herron said he was very much inclined to doubt this theory although he had no good leads and expected none until debris was cleared from room where fire started.

Roof Fell

The last three bodies were taken from the building after firemen dug deep into a pile of debris caused when the roof fell and brought half of the second floor crashing down with it.

Chief Merrill said by the time the first fire truck reached the fire—three or four minutes after the alarm—flames had enveloped the entire building. Some of the victims never got out of their bed.

Jack Kennedy, Council Bluffs Nonpareil photographer, said that when he reached the scene soon after the fire trucks flames were shooting hundreds of feet in the air.

Built In 1880s

The victims all were in the rear of the building, once an ornate mansion built in the late 1880s in what is now Morningside Addition, the highest and most scenic spot in Council Bluffs, across the Missouri River from Omaha. The home is at 501 Frank St.

Violet Hedrick, one of the employes., said the staff was just sitting down to lunch about 1 p.m. when she heard two of the patients yell "fire."

"We ran into the ladies' room and saw the curtains were on fire," Miss Hedrick said. "There were four women patients in that room. The next thing it looked like the whole place was on fire."

Firemen quickly summoned all available ambulances and nurses administered first aid to the injured on the ground before they were taken to hospitals.

A neighbor turned his home over to doctors, nurses and firemen for an emergency first aid station.

An improvised morgue was established in the rear of a funeral home.

Some of the patients got out of the burning structure on foot and in wheel chairs; others were carried out in stretchers. At the height of the fire the cries of some of the trapped victims could be heard through the roar of the flames.

The fire was brought under control about 2 p.m. but two hours later there still were tongues of flame shooting from the smouldering ruins.

2 Survivors Don't Know How Escaped

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia. (AP)—Two men in their eighties who fled the flames that killed at least 13 of their rest home companions Wednesday agreed Wednesday night they didn't know how they got out "but somehow we did it."

Art Ranson, 81, said he held a winning pitch hand in a game with friend Lonnie Applegate "when the hollering started and we jumped up to see what was happening."

"We saw it was fire. It did go fast. I can't remember how I and Lonnie got out—but I lost all my chewing tobacco. You got any?" Ranson said at the hospital where he was treated for shock.

Lemuel Purcell, 87, said he was having dinner when the alarm reached him.

"I jumped up and started running one way but I ran into a mass of flames. I turned around and ran another way and got out—I don't know how," said Purcell, who escaped with minor burns.

Purcell ran his hand over his head and grimaced.

"I lost my hair—a lot of it. They had been telling me I needed a haircut," he said sadly.

HOME'S PERMIT NOT RENEWED

DES MOINES (AP)—State Health Commissioner Edmund G. Zimmerer said that the license of the Council Bluffs nursing home which burned with heavy loss of life Wednesday had not been renewed "pending certain corrections."

The State Health Department, which Zimmerer heads, is responsible for inspection of such homes. Dr. Zimmerer said the home had been licensed "but when the license came up for renewal last month the home was inspected on Jan. 30 and on that basis the renewal was withheld pending certain corrections at the home."

Dr. Zimmerer did not specify the corrections which had been ordered.

(Dr. Zimmerer was with the Nebraska Health Department for a number of years, and for a time following World War II was director of the Venereal Disease Control Division. He went to the Iowa Health Department about eight years ago.)

Gaza Strip Action Put Off By Israel

. . . Asks Clarification From U.S.

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel put off any momentous decision on the Aqaba Gulf and Gaza Strip issues Wednesday. Instead, she asked Washington for clarification of the United States position on those barriers to Middle East peace.

The Israeli Foreign Ministry sought further information on details it considered vague in a plan Secretary of State Dulles presented Monday to get Israeli troops out of the last of the Egyptian territory they seized last fall.

Premier David Ben-Gurion's cabinet postponed for 24 hours a scheduled meeting to consider the proposal. But Ben-Gurion, ailing, has already mulled over at least some phases with his foreign affairs advisers at his home in Tel Aviv.

To promote the troop withdrawal demanded by U. N. resolutions, Dulles conditionally offered U. S. support for free navigation in the Gulf of Aqaba, long closed to the Israelis by Egyptian guns, and for a U.N. force of some kind to see Gaza is not used again for Arab raids on Israel.

Nobody seemed wholly pleased. The Moscow radio, broadcasting in Arabic, called the Dulles plan "an open encouragement to aggression."

Egyptian delegates at U. N. headquarters in New York were reported unhappy over Dulles' move. And Cairo newspapers slapped hard at it.

Deadline Eyed

ISMAILIA, Egypt (INS)—Lieut. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler (ret.) said out loud Wednesday what has been whispered up and down the Suez Canal for a week:

The United Nations clearance force probably will not be able to meet the March 10 target date for reopening the waterway to limited traffic after all.

In so many words, the 71-year-old veteran of canal operations accused the Egyptians of dragging their feet.

For the first time Wheeler glumly expressed serious doubts that the U.N. force of 31 ships and 450 men would be able to meet next month's deadline for reopening the canal to vessesl drawing 25 feet.

Army Hangs Two Soldiers

FT. LEAVENWORTH, Kan. (Thursday) (AP)—The Army hanged two soldiers early Thursday for separate slayings almost four years ago in Germany and North Carolina.

They were Winfred D. Moore of Virginia Beach, Va., and Thomas J. Edwards of Ardmore, Okla., both 23.

Another Balmy Day Is Forecast

Thursday will continue to be mild, according to forecasters, but it will be somewhat cooler in the northeast part of the state.

The Weather Bureau said it will be clear to partly cloudy and continued warm over most of the state. Highs were to range from 45 in the northeast to 65 in the southwest.

Wednesday the state's high was a balmy 66 at the Lincoln Air Base. Lincoln was a whisker behind with 65. High temperatures across the state range downward from this high to 55 at Chadron.

East Ports Silenced By Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — The second dock strike in three months Wednesday held tight grip on Atlantic ports from Maine to Virginia. Mile upon mile of busy waterfront subsided to almost ghostlike silence.

The International Longshoremen's Assn. (Ind) said its renewed contract strike was 100 per cent effective among its 45,000 dockers. No one disputed the estimate.

Peace talks were not broken off. But they lacked the optimistic zip of Tuesday's prestrike negotiations. The nation's top labor peacemaker, James F. Finnegan, national director of federal mediation, remarked:

"Things are rocking along satisfactorily but no speed records are being broken."

Finnegan flew in from Washington Monday in a vain effort to head off the strike. It got under way, however, with the expiration Teusday night of an 8-day Taft-Hartley injunction that interrupted last November's waterfront strike.

Latest word from Washington was that the government had no present plans to intervene in this strike, as it did in November.

Charter Group Begins 'Revising' Revisions

. . . But Problems Found

By NANCY BENJAMIN
Star Staff Writer

City Charter Revision Committee members tackled the problem of revising wording of amendment drafts to include suggestions and criticisms brought up in recent public hearings.

Sub-committee reports heard Wednesday night resulted in some changes, but members found the problem of organization interfered with other decisions.

Dr. Charles Miller pointed out that "a horrible scramble" could result if voters rejected the new strong mayor-council form proposed but adopted other amendments, depending upon the new form.

Miller suggested that a charter convention be called.

Present charter committee members could run on a slate for the present charter revisions and a second group of 15 citizens could run opposing the revisions, he explained.

'Yes, Or No Vote'

"Then, we could put the amendments before the people for a 'yes' or 'no' vote," Miller explained, with the opposition having the task of forming a new charter if they were victorious.

After discussion, Miller's suggestion was deferred for possible later consideration.

Committee members voted to send the revised work of their group to City Attorney Jack Pace for division into separate amendments (probably numbering 20 or 30) as a possible form for presentation to the voters.

Frank Williams, committee chairman, suggested that the separate amendments could then be viewed by the committee "to see if they will stand by themselves."

Joint Session

Plans for a joint session with City Council members to air views of the council before final presentation were discussed.

Among changes made at the three-hour session were:

1. Substitution of the wording "provide for" in place of "require" in sections dealing with subdivision regulation and zoning to avoid legal problems.

2. Inclusion of parks and urban renewal and redevelopment programs among purposes for which the city may exercise the right of eminent domain.

3. Rewording of the city's power to order improvements to extend to "portions of streets less than 400 feet in length . . . connecting with existing improvements at each end."

200 Write-Ins

4. Requiring a minimum of 200 write-in votes at a city primary before candidate's name is placed on the general election ballot.

5. Revision of personnel rules so as not to require merit examinations for all city workers, allowing personnel director to hire unskilled or special workers by other recruitment means.

The committee heard from Chauncey Barney as an invited representative for city realtors and home builders. Barney proposed the committee give the City Council final say in decisions on matters concerning zoning variance and exception. Committee members did not vote the change.

Another proposal by Barney—to restrict the board of zoning appeals to hearings and decisions on matters of variance and exception—was incorporated in changes.

Showdown Is Delayed

. . . On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southerners, battering at civil rights legislation as evil, dangerous and a "bunch of garbage," wrung from a House Judiciary subcommittee Wednesday a 12-day respite before hearings are halted.

The time element is important to chances of passing such legislation. Delaying tactics at every turn are a Southern stratagem.

Twice before the subcommittee had yielded to Dixie protests and kept the hearings going. Now, instead of ending Thursday another round of testimony is set for Feb. 25-26.

But "under no circumstances," Chairman Celler (D-NY) declared, will there be another extension.

State Okays 17 District Unification

The State Committe for the reorganization of School Districts Wednesday unanimously approved the unification of 17 school districts in Fillmore County.

The reorganization plan, presented to the committee by the Fillmore County Committee, would include all of districts 75, 3, 7, 12, 13, 18, 32, 35, 45, 46, 47, 48, 61, 68, 76, and 81, and the major portion of 65, the committee said.

Under the unification proposal, all exisiting districts would continue to operate until the end of the current school year, when the new district would become effective.

The new district, the committee reported, will have an assessed valuation of $7,960,932 and a total school enrollment of about 600 pupils.

SNOWSLIDE BURIES 12 NIPPON WORKERS

TOKYO (INS)—Twelve Japanese workers were buried alive in a snowslide Wednesday at a dam construction site in Niigata, north of Tokyo.

Rescue teams, composed of about 140 men, were racing against time in a desperate effort to dig out the trapped workers.

The avalanche came down a hillside in an area where two men were killed in a snowslide Tuesday.

BETHANY BLAZE CAUGHT FIRE DEPT. 'UNDERMANNED'

By BRUCE BRUGMANN
Star Staff Writer

Fire Chief Paul Feaster said Wednesday night that firemen fighting the two-alarm blaze which gutted the Cotner Masonic Lodge Building in Bethany were "more undermanned than usual."

However, he commended the department for performing a "nice piece of work" in quenching a fire which "had been well started" before an engine company from University Place arrived at the scene shortly after 5 p.m.

"Under the circumstances," the fire chief said, "if there had been more, or even twice as many men fighting the fire, the results would probably have been pretty much the same."

Why Undermanned?

Feaster gave three reasons why the force had been undermanned:

1. The engine company from University Place, which arrived first on the scene, was short one man who was riding in a cruiser car. According to Feaster, the cruiser car arrived approximately five minutes after the company.

Ben Kuhner, acting fire chief at the blaze and battalion chief at University Place said there were two men on the engine unit, and that the lack of the third did not "appear to delay the operation of laying out the line."

The same condition would have existed, Feaster pointed out, if a man were sick or on vacation.

2. The unit from Havelock was short one man because of a recent injury.

3. A mistake in addresses by the switchboard operator prompted a wrong company to be dispatched to the fire scene.

Station No. 1 at 323 No. 10th was dispatched to a grass fire, Feaster explained, which depleted station manpower.

"A truck company was dispatched from Station 1 when the alarm came through instead of the truck company from Cotner and A, which should have covered the fire, Feaster said.

"After the mistake was discovered, the truck company from A and Cotner had to be moved to 23rd and O. This mistake left the main part of the city without aerial ladder service and sent an undermanned unit to the fire."

Police said he ran from a private driveway into the path of a car driven by William Morrison, 23, of 4100 Cornhusker Highway. Morrison was driving east on South at the time, police said.

Britain Will Rely More On A-Weapons

. . . H-Bomb Ready

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan's government won parliamentary approval Wednesday for an economy defense program stressing nuclear weapons to discourage attacks by swift Soviet stratosphere atom rockets.

Sandys

Defense minister Duncan Sandys told the House of Commons Britain has almost completed developing its first megaton bomb, but added:

"We are now entering a new phase in which we might soon be open to attack by ballistic rockets.

"There is every reason to believe that the Russians have been developing a much enlarged version of the German V2 rocket but with the enormous difference that it will carry a nuclear warhead, and with a range sufficient to reach Britain from launching bases within Soviet-controlled territory.

5,000 Miles An Hour

"They will rise to a height of over 100 miles in the stratosphere and travel at more than 5,000 miles an hour."

Sandys said Britain had to prevent such attack by being ready to meet it with devastating retaliation.

He said no weapon has ever been invented for which there was no answer.

The defense minister said British-made atomic bombs are in steady production and the Royal Air Force holds a substantial stock.

Sandys' statement about the megaton bomb, coupled with previous government announcements, clearly meant Britain now is poised for an initial test of her own hydrogen bomb. It is sceduled to take place in the Pacific sometime after March 1.

Plane Wreckage Spotted; Ground Party Nears Site

PARSHAL, Colo. (INS) — A ground party was heading for the wreckage of a light plane, sighted late Wednesday in the rugged mountains about 12 miles southeast of Parshal, Colo.

The plane is believed to be one owned by the Mountain States Construction Co., of Denver, which disappeared last Friday with four men aboard on a non-stop flight from Ogden, Utah to Denver.

Civil Air Patrol and Air Force planes from Colorado, Wyoming and Utah had joined in the search, hampered by stormy weather conditions over the mountains.

Dulles, GM Must Obey Laws

TORONTO (AP)—Premier Leslie M. Frost of Ontario said Wednesday everyone, including Secretary of State Dulles, owner of an island retreat in Lake Ontario, must observe the province's fish and game laws.

He told the legislature Dulles or any one else who shot deer out of season in the province would be prosecuted. Game and fish, even on private property, are owned by the crown, he said.

Deer shooting out of season was an issue raised by Ross L. Whicher, a liberal, who said the government permitted Dulles and General Motors executives to shoot deer all year. General Motors owns Griffiths Island on Georgian Bay. Dulles owns Duck Island in Lake Ontario.

The premier was challenged Wednesday to show there was not one law for the rich and one for the poor. He was asked why violators of the game laws on Griffiths Island had not been prosecuted.

Frost said there will be prosecution if he is provided with information about any violation and if the time limit for filing a charge has not expired.

Undecided Redding Jury Adjourns

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The second Lancaster District Court jury to consider the manslaughter charges against Earl Redding in connection with the death of a mental patient adjourned for the night at 9:30 p.m. Wednesday and is expected to resume deliberations Thursday at 9 a.m.

The seven men and five women jurors resumed deliberations after recessing earlier for supper without reaching a verdict. The case went to the jury at 4:35 p.m.

The 60-year-old Lincoln State Hospital attendant is charged in the death of a 76-year-old mental patient, Charles Copperstone, last Nov. 4.

In summarizing the state's evidence, Co. Atty. Elmer Scheele relied on these points:

1. Testimony of Melvin Watkins, another attendant on duty with Redding, that he saw Redding strike Copperstone "three or four blows" in the chest while putting the patient to bed on Nov. 1.

2. Redding's signed statement that he "struck Copperstone several blows in the chest."

3. Testimony of Dr. Frank Tanner that an autopsy showed death was caused by bronchial pneumonia and congestion precipitated by severe rib fractures.

X-Rays Cited

Defense Atty. Sterling Mutz in closing statements to the jury said that X-rays taken of Copperstone's chest when hospitalized after the alleged beating revealed only a few small fractures and not the extensive injuries described by Dr. Tanner.

The post mortem was not performed until some 24 hours after death and then after the body had been embalmed and transported twice between the state hospital and funeral establishment, Mutz said.

The autopsy also showed a severe bruise on Copperstone's head, which the defense said resulted from a dragging incident two days before the alleged beating when another mental patient tipped Copperstone from his chair and dragged him by the heels into the ward.

"Fractured ribs do not kill people," Mutz told the jury.

The attorney maintained that other autopsy-revealed ailments such as hardening of the arteries, heart trouble, brittle bones, and pneumonia "caused or contributed to the death."

The clinical report, Mutz said, showed Copperstone "slept well until 5:30 p.m. (Nov. 4) when he 'suddenly expired.'"

Federal Grand Jury Probes Alleged Hospital Mistreatment

A Federal grand jury at Omaha is considering a case involved in alleged mistreatment of a Lincoln State Hospital mental patient last February.

This was revealed by Wednesday testimony during the manslaughter trial of Earl Redding, 60, in the death of a 76-year-old mental patient.

The federal probe does not involve the Redding case, but concerns alleged mistreatment of a 27-year-old patient by a nurse aide.

Grand jury findings are expected this Thursday, it was reported.

Dr. F. L. Spradling, superintendent of the state hospital, said the hospital's investigation failed to prove any mistreatment on the part of anyone.

Dr. Spradling said the nurse aide was discharged, but explained such dismissals are made upon "mere suspicion" of mistreatment.

The superintendent said the patient was discharged in December.

The federal probe began a few days after the alleged incident as the result of an "anonymous call," according to Dr. Spradling.

Dr. Spradling said the hospital conducts its own investigation and other authorities are notified only when criminal negligence is found.

Disclosure of the federal investigation by Dr. Spradling came under cross-examination by County Atty. Elmer Scheele during the Redding trial.

Dr. Spradling volunteered that he had "spent all day Monday" in Omaha before the grand jury.

Asst. U.S. Dist. Atty. Dean Wallace at Lincoln said federal authorities investigated the alleged incident under a civil rights statute that protects persons in institutions.

The plane, temporarly attached to the air support school at the San Diego amphibious base, was returning from a tactical flight when it crashed three miles east of a naval air auxiliary station.

JOHN A. CUNNINGHAM PRESIDENT OF THE LINCOLN TRAFFIC CLUB

John A. Cunningham of the Union Pacific railroad was announced as president of the Lincoln Traffic Club Wednesday night at the club's annual stag dinner.

Freight Lines; Jack Andrews, Star Van and Storage Co.; E. R. Chism, Union Pacific; J. L. Weingarten, CB&Q Railroad, and C. A. Ross, traffic consultant.

Col. Harlow E. Allen, guest speaker, explained the operations of the single-manager Military Traffic Agency to the group.

Col. Allen, who is chief of the regional Planning Commission with the U.S. Army Transportation Corps, said the single-manager system, made up of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps, has resulted in personnel savings and greater efficiency.

The system was established in October, 1946, and is concerned with the movement of people and material, he said. Previously, each branch of the service handled its own traffic.

Special awards were made at the meeting to K. C. Niles, Chicago and North Western Railroad, and J. L. Phinney, Henkle and Joyce Hardware Co., for their outstanding work in the Traffic Club during 1956.

Peery Jury Choice Today

Selection of a Lancaster District Court jury for the trial of Wesley H. Peery, 31, on charges of burglary and robbery, is scheduled to begin Thursday morning.

Peery is charged with taking a .38-caliber pistol from the home of Asst. Lincoln Police Chief Eugene Masters and of taking money at gun point from Charles W. Winkler on Jan. 15, 1956.

Judge Harry Spencer has under advisement a defense motion that the burglary and robbery charges be separately tried. He is expecting to rule on this before jury selection begins.

Peery is presently confined at the Nebraska Penitentiary, but his conviction and 10-year sentence for rape from the Sarpy County District Court was reversed by the Nebraska Supreme Court in January.

The high court ruled there was lack of evidence to support the jury's conviction and a mandate on these findings is expected to be issued Thursday, according to Peery's attorney.

The Better Service

Dean A. C. Breckenridge of the University of Nebraska is the most recent educator to speak out against increasing student tuition.

He pointed out two things well worth remembering. One is the principle of keeping higher education within the financial reach of as many students as possible. The other is the inevitability of growth. The nation needs an increasing number of highly trained citizens and an increasing number of individuals need the education. It will continue that way as long as the nation is progressing and growing. A state cannot effectually enjoy the needed fruits of education by efforts to get out from under the cost of it, especially by raising the price barriers against the ones who must be educated.

These are reasonable and irrefutable points. They indicate that institutions of higher learning do not especially serve their communities by taxing students. They return a finer accounting when they better the services of education, turn out a constantly better product and conduct their administration by maintaining standards that discourage students who are unfit or indifferent. The measurement of a school is its product, not its tuition charge.

On The Right Track

The outlines of a new Nebraska were manifest this week in the strength with which the legislature threw back efforts to kill two irrigation measures.

Separate motions to kill LB 109 and 110 could muster no more than four favorable votes. LB 109 would require registration and log keeping on all wells drilled hereafter, while LB 110 would require a minimum of 600 feet separating one individual's well from another's.

One can leave it to the legislature and to experience to assay the merits of these particular bills. But the temper of the legislature reflects the temper of all Nebraska. The current drought has made it clear that water is prime as a state resource. Proper conservation and use of it offers Nebraska agriculture the best long range answer to the matter of ever-normal production. The excellent resources so long existent, but largely untapped, promise to make this state an exception. There is every indication that Nebraska is in dead earnest and that it will reach the level of maximum crop security in the shortest possible time. The legislature may hesitate over this or that measure, may debate the merits of suggested plans, but there is no doubt that it will integrate a conservation program during this and coming sessions.

Dismaying as it is to experience the loss and the rigors of drought there is a bright side to backsets if they point out their own remedies. In this case the realization of practices that will assure ever-normal production is a reward of incalculable value.

Man They Should Listen To

Senator John Sherman Cooper, recently elected Republican from Kentucky, has promised his constituents that he will exercise his abilities to the limit to affect the appointment of the next member of the three man federal board governing the Tennessee Valley Authority. He was referring to the vacancy that will occur in May when the term of Commissioner Harry A. Curtis expires.

Senator Cooper's declaration takes on unusual interest when one examines the actions thus far of the Eisenhower administration. This second appointment will give the majority on the board to the Republicans. President Eisenhower has already filled one vacancy with the appointment of General Herbert Vogel, chairman. Vogel has treated TVA with austerity. A second such appointment could greatly change the original character of the TVA.

It was Senator Cooper who during his earlier term in the Senate found himself blocked away from the President when he attempted to prevent federal dealings with Dixon-Yates for a privately-owned electric generating plant at West Memphis to serve TVA customers through a forced contract with TVA. Cooper's failure cost him his seat in the Senate and the administration's willfulness turned into embarrassment later when evidence of a conflict of interest required President Eisenhower to order the cancellation of the contract he originally worked for.

In the light of that a vindicated Cooper should be accorded more weight in the councils of the administration. Perhaps this time he can guard the administration against a second lamentable error.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

This writer would share with the reader a most unusual telegram received late Tuesday from an outstate community. The telegram reads:

"DO SOMETHING ABOUT THIS FARM PROGRAM."

At the same time, the news columns revealed that the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office, hard-pressed by requests for additional corn soil bank money from Nebraska counties whose original funds were completely exhausted by drought-stricken farmers, Tuesday rushed a telegram to the Department of Agriculture in Washington asking for more money. It was further revealed that the ASC administrative officer had no funds left Wednesday night, after giving 24 counties more money in addition to their original allotment. He was hopeful of receiving additional funds, it appeared from the news columns, on the basis of "helping farmers" and "carrying out the purposes and objectives of the soil bank program."

★

That telegram could provide the basis for a fascinating speculation on the emotions of the individual who sent it. Obviously it came from a farmer who, like a lot of others, finds it difficult to reconcile the Nebraska allocation of $16 million for 1957 for soil bank purposes with $31 million used in the campaign a year ago, when there was no limit on the acres taken out of production and payments per acre were lower. It is not difficult to understand the disappointment shared by farmers in this state seeking to qualify for participation in the soil bank, only to discover that a shortage in funds has made it necessary for those on the local level administering the program to adopt a policy of first-come, first-served. So far as the farm program itself is concerned, Secretary Benson may know where he's headed and where thousands of American farm families are destined to land unless conditions change, but we doubt it.

Less Than 1956 Fund

★

This paper has said on numerous occasions that it was a sorry day for American agriculture when Ezra Taft Benson was appointed. He had hardly taken office before he began his war on surpluses. Prices drifted lower and lower during the early months of his administration. The plight of the farmer became more serious. And the more Mr. Benson continued to hammer away against surpluses, it seemed to this observer, the greater the mess he and his policies were creating.

★

It is a little bit late at this time to be doing anything about the farm program so far as Nebraska is concerned. Ike made his drought-inspection trip—conditions have worsened since that trip in the continuing lack of moisture and the threat of blowing dust—but he did not include Nebraska in his itinerary. And if there has been any pronounced change in meeting the threat of drought as a result of that visit by the President to some of the drought-ridden states, it hasn't been observable in Nebraska. Secretary Benson on the basis of November returns was able to say that the farming areas go along with him. He has the support of at least one and perhaps two of the larger farm organizations in the country. Most of all, though, Mr. Benson could rely on the most patient class of people—the farmer. But the farmer is indulging himself in false hope if he expects Secretary Benson to make any substantial change, in the basic sense, in the farm program for which he has fought since taking office.

Patient Man Of The Soil

★

There will be a time when the people of Iowa and Nebraska will listen to men of the character and leadership of former Governors Dan Turner of Iowa and Adam McMullen of Nebraska, who broke with their party in the fall of 1956. The most important step that the farm people of the Midwest could take would be to rebel against the Benson farm program.

Revolutionary

A concern which came upon a windfall is attempting to revolutionize fishing. Rummaging around in the federal bargain basement it came upon units of sonar equipment, of a type used during WWII to detect underwater objects, principally submarines and mines. Sonar will also indicate rocks on bottom, sunken logs and schools of fish. Now for $125 per copy a sportsman can buy a sonar attachment which in the hands of an expert will tell one where to toss out his line.

Maybe sonar will take hold. Maybe not. When you get down to primitive methods presently employed, which consist of a high paid guide, a box full of gaudy lures and the price of a week's stay at a nickle plated lodge, they will return a reasonable number of fish at an overhead of about $18 each. Relatively speaking that's cheap compared to sonar fishing which requires more capital outlay and several thousand dollars worth of training to make sure the owner won't spend the afternoon trying to land a submerged log indicated by the machine as the biggest fish in the lake.

New Rules

The Soviet Communist party congress is breaking with the historic past. The time has come, it believes for Russians to be polite and a little more refined. It has set up new rules, enforceable, we presume, with a gun butt.

Henceforth Russians will take off hat, overcoat and galoshes when they drop in on friends to spend the evening. And when they go to parties they are to wear seasonable clothes—no more large men at a summer party steaming away aromatically in bearskin coats. And color combinations must be compatible. The congress has expressed disapproval of get-ups that make a person look like a parrot. And best of all, it will be all right from now on for Russian gentlemen to hold doors open for ladies. All we can make out of it is that Communism is going soft.

Time For Action

Shirtsleeve weather in February in Nebraska is always page one news and there is plenty of it right now.

A little warmth provides a welcome respite from the austerity of winter, especially for middle westerners who are primarily an outdoor people.

There are reminders in this current warm spell. It has been a dry winter. There is no guarantee of a wet spring. This, therefore, is an excellent time to get out the hose, drench garden plots, water trees and shrubbery and give the lawns a treatment. A stitch in time can save nine, and nine in this case represents a great deal in terms of investment and beauty.

Lodge Too Lofty For Ground Hog

WASHINGTON — Handsome, hard-working Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to the U.N., does not want to be a ground hog, not even an honorary one.

He made this quite clear the other day to the Slumbering Groundhog Lodge of Quarryville, Pa.

Every year the ground hog lodge of Quarryville goes through a ritual to ascertain what the real ground hog thinks about the prospects of a mild and cold winter, and early or late spring. Quite a few distinguished citizens have participated in this ground hog shadow ceremony and become honorary ground hogs; including Harry S. Truman and Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson.

But up in Boston, whence came Ambassador Lodge and where his grandfather was that famed Boston Brahmin, Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, who helped defeat Woodrow Wilson's League of Nations, it's said: "The Cabots speak only to Lodges and the Lodges speak only to God."

So, when Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge received the invitation from the Slumbering Groundhog Lodge of Quarryville, Pa., to become an honorary ground hog, his secretary replied:

"Ambassador Lodge has made it a principle since becoming representative at the United Nations not to accept membership in any organization, even honorary membership, if he cannot devote to its activities a portion of his time and energy."

President Eisenhower emphasized to a secret meeting of Republican congressional leaders the other day that he wanted the school construction bill passed this year.

When GOP leaders reminded him that the school bill might be derailed by a fight over segregation, he observed:

"Well, I still think the program can be put through without major change. I am not going to make any more concessions."

A commission which Ike appointed last year reported that construction of more schools would not be enough to solve our education needs for elementary and high school students. The commission also stressed the need for federal funds to attract more and better teachers, by raising salaries. However, the administration rejected this broad proposal.

"It seems to me that the best way is to get the school bill taken up first by the Senate," suggested the President. "Then, we would be in better shape to head off the Powell anti-segregation amendment, which stalled the bill in the last session."

"There's only one thing wrong with that, Mr. President — the Democratic leadership," broke in Senate GOP Leader Bill Knowland of California, amid laughs. "Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the majority leader, prefers that both the school bill and the civil rights measure originate in the House. And we Republicans are outvoted by Senator Johnson and the Democrats."

"Well, work it out the best way you can," Ike concluded the discussion.

Note: Colleagues generally agree that Rep. Adam Clayton Powell of New York, a Democrat in name only who supported Ike in the last campaign, is chiefly interested in personal publicity in pressing for his anti-segregation amendment.

Wives of U.S. diplomats in Austria who operate a soup kitchen for Hungarian refugees made a big hit by ladling out a ton of frozen orange juice. Refugees remarked that it was the first orange juice they'd tasted in 15 years. The juice, contributed by Snow Crop, was left over from the U.S. exhibit at the Vienna international trade fair and was turned over to embassy wives after the fair closed.

Democrats Plan Weekend Parley

WASHINGTON — Democrats at their week-end conference in San Francisco will subdue their recriminations to concentrate on their biggest problem—money.

In the major speech of the occasion, Adlai Stevenson will again give light and leadership on foreign policy. For whatever comfort it is to him, he will no longer be a voice in the wilderness, since Senate Democrats are now vigorously echoing his campaign themes.

National Chairman Paul Butler is presently secure in the always-thankless job of running Washington headquarters for the party out of power at the White House from whence all patronage blessings flow. Party liberals, eager to establish a counterpoise to the Rayburn-Johnson congressional leadership, have found no one of stature now willing to take the chairmanship, much less fight for it.

They will continue through the national advisory committee an effort to dilute the strongly southern flavor imparted to party policy by the fact that senior Southerners dominate the Democratic Congress.

Continuing their policy of dignified non-acquiescence, speaker Sam Rayburn and Senate Leader Lyndon B. Johnson will not go to San Francisco. They already had refused membership on the advisory committee.

☆ ☆ ☆

While the money problem is privately debated, a number of propaganda offensives will be launched.

Western Democrats will take advantage of their position on the home grounds to emphasize their 1956 election triumphs. The unexpected victories of Frank Church in Idaho and John A. Carroll in Colorado enabled the party to control the Senate. The House majority is largely indebted to westerners from districts which have rarely, if ever, gone Democratic.

The Westerners want power and water stressed as national issues. They will stake a claim to the succession to Chairman Butler — California National Committeeman Paul Ziffren is willing to make the sacrifice. Some of them are talking about a place for the West on the 1960 ticket, and this is the real point of the Morse-for-president boom.

One reason Democrats are minimizing their differences is their excellent prospect for improving their position in Congress next year. Only 11 of their Senate seats will be up for grabs and all are relatively safe. Republicans must defend 21 places, of which at least 12 are slated for close contests.

The party debts and need for money remain. The Gore elections sub-committee made a tabulation of direct expenditures in the 1956 campaign which showed Republicans spending $20,685,387 and Democrats $10,977,790. Even if Democrats got all that labor spent, which was about a million, and part of the miscellaneous, which was $500,000, the gap between the two parties is huge. The problem is how to close it.

Hotel Man Plans To Serve World

WASHINGTON — Conrad Hilton is going to open a Greek restaurant. It will be at the corner of Queen Sophia and King Constantine Boulevards, in Athens. They've needed a place there for a long time, many Greeks agree.

The restaurant, of course, will be only one of several in Hilton's proposed Athens Hilton, the newest announced member of a hotel chain that one day expects to encircle the earth between normal plane hops. This one will be built in cooperation with Apostolos Pezas, Greek financier and shipowner, and the Greek government.

Hilton told me the other day that he still has high hopes that the Nile Hilton will be completed. It was perhaps half done when Nasser blew his top. Also in the building stage are the Habana Hilton, the Acapulco Hilton, and Berlin Hilton. Communists in Rome have retarded the beginning of the Hilton hotel there, but the hotels in Tokyo, Bangkok, Thailand and Baghdad will soon be started, and perhaps one in Sydney.

Hilton has his hands and mind full. At the formal opening of the Istanbul Hilton he met and shook hands with every employe of that fabled place, every guest and guests of guests. One face in the blur of faces seemed to pique his interest.

"What do you do around here?" Hilton asked the little man, shaking his hand.

The man looked at Hilton rather bleakly and said, levelly, "Built it."

Tell junior to lay off the spinach and tackle those eggs. Modern chemistry, farmer needs, and so forth are on his side.

Big butter and egg man was telling us today that per capita consumption of eggs has dropped alarmingly despite an over-all increase in production. New Yorkers, he said with a shudder, eat only half an egg per person per day.

The national consumption is 167,000,000 eggs a day, but it should be more from a nutritional standpoint, the man said.

Kimball Publisher's Desk A Treasure Trove

By MONA B. PARKER

Recent springlike temperatures make the sub-zero days of a few weeks ago a not so fond memory, but there's still talk of them. The Springview Herald told of a super quick method for ice cream that one Nebraskan discovered. Farmer Elton Painter milked his cows one cold evening, turned them out, and by the time he reached the house with the milk, found it frozen. . .

An early case of spring fever hit two Orleans youngin's with such irresistible force that they simply took off from the school grounds at recess, to return to classes no more that day. Considerable concern was aroused both in school executive quarters and parental realms until the two blithe wanderers were finally located.

The day was warm, and, sympathetically relayed the Chronicle, "things were probably hot somewhere else, also."

The Harrison Sun reported that not long after the publication with the story on H-bomb development headed "U.S. Finding Way To Cut Fall Out" had reached the street, a reader called, asking: "If they cut fall out, does that mean we're going to go from summer right into winter?"

The Clarks Enterprise carried a front-page notice. "A Word To The Unwise," urging "the screwball who was using Morris Street for a speedway Wednesday night" to pause and remember that over 40,000 people were killed in this country in 1956, many of whom might have been saved by the use of a little common sense.

The Syracuse Journal-Democrat needs no persuasion on the place or importance to be accorded to the small towns and rural communities of America. . .

The Blood Bank was under discussion, and the concession was that without the little communities and country folk, this worthwhile project would very likely fall flat on its face. The rural areas, said the J-D, regularly contribute enough blood to meet their own needs and a surplus for the use of their city cousins who never seem to find time to get to the donation center.

"And so it is with most other charitable projects. Which leads some to wonder what will happen when the 'thinkers' finally achieve their goal of eliminating the rural communities."

A new staff reporter for the Western Nebraska Observer dug down through what had loosely been referred to as "junk" on the desk of Publisher Art Henrickson and found there a dark blue desk blotter that had never been faded by the light for the simple reason that it had never seen the light.

Somewhat pained at the inference, Mr. Henrickson prefers not to think of the accumulation as "junk"—rather a treasure store from which he will select gems of information as he needs them.

Who Brags A Lot . . .

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Secretary of State Dulles said in a diplomatic conference that in any emergency the United States would "lead from strength." It may have been propaganda or it may have been an emotional outburst. While valid enough, the boast was not well accepted.

Minorities do not get results by leading from strength which they do not have, rather from sympathy for their causes.

With half her counties stretching begging hands to Washington for drought relief, Nebraska is leading from sympathy. Agriculture, which built and baby-fed our cities, is in a bad way. Under Benson's farm program, many acres will lie fallow with a consequent loss of population. Every village in the grain and livestock-producing areas is hard hit and trying merely to carry on until the rains come again.

As of today Nebraska has little to boast about except the quality of its citizens who have grown sturdy and long-lived under austerity. Even city members of the Legislature will be doing the highest public service by noting the Nebraska scene as a whole and turning deaf ears to the promotional urge of chambers of commerce and selfish interests in the name of progress.

Who brags a lot is apt to lie a little.

Home And Abroad

Beatrice, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: According to the United Nations, Ike, Dulles and the big oil boys, Israel is a bad boy in wanting a guarantee that it will be protected instead of being exploited if it withdraws from the Gaza strip, which it shouldn't do as it won it fairly. Your Uncle Sam will have to pick up the tab for clearing the big ditch, with no assurance but what Nasser and his allies will do it again. Russia has Nasser out on a limb and will shake the daylights out of him in spite of the United Nations and its hot air.

If I remember my history correctly, there was a time when the 13 colonies would have been knocked out if it hadn't been for the aid of France and others. It showed very poor taste to roll out the red carpet for King Saud and send him home with the promise of millions by big oil and business, millions wrung out of the docile taxpayers of this country. Trust them to insist on their pound of flesh. The gilded cage boys (and the bird in it) haggle over the little help they give the farmers and ranchers in drought areas, backed up by an ironclad contract, when it all starts from the farm. If the farmer doesn't make it, nobody else will in the long pull.

Tax Matters

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In the past month, sales tax advocates have "chirped" via the press on the ratio of farm population to income and taxes, always stating that about 25 per cent of the state's population are the farmers who pay about 60 per cent of the taxes. What taxes? During a hearing on the sales tax bill, the head of the Farm Bureau Federation read from a prepared statement that farm population of this state is 25 per cent, farm income is 12 per cent, yet farmers are taxed for about 60 per cent of the cost of state government. In my meager and, I hope, unselfish opinion, this let the cat out of the bag. The state levy is predominantly one of the lowest—8.09 (12 cents on $1 in Lincoln) of all Nebraska's governmental subdivisions.

I can't help but arrive at the following analysis:

Did their figure of 12 per cent of state income come from federal tax returns? If so, then the other 75 per cent of the population is paying 88 per cent of the federal load. Our federal taxes make the total of state, county, school and city taxes look like chicken feed. Farmers don't pay much city tax.

It is undisputably a matter of record that individual income taxes account for over half of all federal revenue. Of President Eisenhower's recently proposed huge federal budget of $75 billion, 7 cents of each dollar goes to agriculture (soil bank, drought relief, allotments, parity supports, etc.) An urban family of four whose gross income amounts of $4,500 will pay $335 federal tax—much more than the taxes on an average quarter section of Nebraska farm land—plus the tax load on their home and personal property for all other governmental subdivisions.

Having spent the first 27 years of my life on the farm, being forced off by the 30's depression caused by millions of city workers in bread lines unable to purchase food and fiber being over-produced by the nation's farmers, thus unbalancing our economy to the tune of 10-cent corn, 30-cent wheat, and 2-cent hogs, I would be the last city worker to complain about being taxed to support agriculture.

A sales tax would cut the average family's purchasing power about $100 a year, increase the tax load and hurt the economy of all. Sen. Otto says the farmers don't pay any income tax during drought years, and the Farm Bureau's 12 per cent figure is slightly higher, so I don't see where our over-all tax structure is too much out of balance or in any need of equalization except on gas tax as compared to highway use, cost of construction, maintenance and repair, which could be remedied by passing LB 177 and LB 192 furnishing sufficient revenue for all phases of highway programs.

I believe our Legislature should pass LB 80 and get all kinds of property (real, personal, industrial, utilities, etc.) properly on the tax rolls. If stern enough powers and penalties are provided to cope with our deplorable tax evasion, there will be sufficient revenue for sound, sensible investments over and above the governor's "hold-the-line" budget; might even be able to lower levies some. Then the Legislature would have no excuse whatever in trying to pass any of the inequitably stacked sales tax measures which would relieve those who have at the expense of those who have little or nothing.

D. D. Wainscott Re-Elected To Head Seedmen

D. D. Wainscott of Lincoln was re-elected president of the Nebraska Seedsmen Association Wednesday as the group ended its annual meeting in Lincoln.

Other officers chosen: Kenneth Reed, Beatrice, vice president; Hollis Miller, York, secretary-treasurer; and board members Art Barry of Omaha, Paul Uldrich of Lincoln, Claiton Lauber of Geneva and Ed Robinson of Waterloo.

The association went on record as favoring LB 553, pending before the Unicameral. It provides for classification of grains and seeds and for taxing them on the basis of such classification.

Wainscott, in his report to the association, made a plea for less concern over the present surpluses ot agricultural products.

"If we could only remember," he said, "that the history of man is a history of conquest for food . . . is it possible that history might someday record that part of the downfall of America was the human folly of destroying our surpluses, or, more important, destroying our human rights and incentive to produce surpluses?"

"It could well be said," he continued, "that man made no progress in the world until he had a surplus of food. America is one of the very, very fortunate countries that has a surplus of food. In fact, six or seven people out of every 10 in the world today are hungry and suffering from malnutrition and cannot develop the other . . . essentials of progress because of their complete occupancy of time and mind searching for enough food to sustain life."

Wainscott said the drought has drawn association members closer together, and predicted the soil bank plan will help the seedmen by boosting their sales. More than 75 seedmen attended the two-day meeting.

Briton Says Ike Used Barracks Words On Eden

LONDON (AP)—One of the so-called Suez rebels told Parliament Wednesday night he understood that President Eisenhower used "cavalry barracks language" to Sir Anthony Eden at the time of the British-French invasion of Egypt.

He said the strong language was used in a trans-Atlantic telephone conversation.

Harking back to the quarrel that strained relations between London and Washington, Viscount Hinchingbrooke also accused the United States of threatening economic sanctions (penalties) against Britain and said the U.S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean worried the British-French naval force at the time of the November invasion.

Similar charges have been denied repeatedly by Hinchingbrooke's own Conservative government.

The 50-year-old Hinchingbrooke made his statement during a House of Commons debate on defense.

Trade School 'Impresses' Senators Who Visited It

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

Eleven state senators who visited the Nebraska State Trade School at Milford reported Wednesday they were "very favorably impressed" with the school.

The group visited the school as the guests of the Milford Chamber of Commerce.

Sen. John P. Munnelly of Omaha has introduced a bill in the Legislature to abolish the school.

Sen. Frank Nelson of O'Neill said: "They are doing a very good job and it's surprising the amount they have accomplished with their old buildings which are mostly war surplus from the Harvard Air Base."

Trades For Handicapped

Nelson also commended the school for teaching trades to handicapped persons and said he believed the trade school should be included in the state's building fund levy.

Sen. John Adams of Omaha said he thought the school should be continued. "They're doing a job the state can't afford to discontinue," he added.

Sen. John Aufenkamp of Julian said he was "agreeably surprised at the wonderful job the school is doing. It affords ambitious young folks an opportunity to acquire special training for employment in specialized fields."

Sen. Norval P. Dame of Stratton who also favors continuance of the school, said: "They seem to be going along with present conditions and realize we can't afford to expend more money."

'More For Its Money'

Sen. Marvin Lautenschlager of Grand Island said the state is "getting more for its tax dollars at the Milford Trade School than from any other educational institution in Nebraska."

He said he "highly favored" continuing the school and "giving it more than the proposed five per cent of building levy funds for two or three years so that a much-needed building program could be carried on."

Sen. Harold Stryker of Rising City said he thought appropriations for the school "are being very well spent and they are attempting to live within their budget." He praised the school's program for training the handicapped and said he knew of no other place in Nebraska where such persons could get the kind of training offered there.

Sen. J. W. Burbach of Crofton reported he believes the school is "serving its purpose, when one considers how many successful men and boys have graduated from there. It also fills the need for farm boys taking winter courses in training for mechanized fields."

'As Much As Anyone'

Sen. Peter Claussen of Leigh, who said he favored supporting the school, thinks it is "just as much entitled to receiving funds from the state's building levy fund as anyone else."

Sen. Fred Waggoner of Lincoln commented he had a "very favorable impression of the school and I will certainly support it."

Sen. Hans Jensen of Aurora said he thought the school was doing a "wonderful job and doing everything they can with what they have," serving people in a "lower-income bracket who are attempting to learn trades in specialized fields."

Sen. John Donner of Elgin said he was "pretty much impressed with what they were accomplishing out there," adding that he thought it impressive that people with a lower income were "willing to pay $260 a year tuition."

Several senators, commenting on the possibility of changing the school's name, said they feared the present designation leads some persons to believe it is a correctional institution rather than an educational one.

Russ Aggression Charges Called 'Absurd'

WESTERN REACTION IS PROMPT

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States Wednesday denounced Soviet charges of U.S. aggression as "absurd" and a "mockery" of the purposes of the United Nations.

A delegation spokesman made his comment as the United States completed hurried preparations to blast back at the Soviet Union in the Steering Committee of the U.N. Assembly.

In a letter to the Assembly president, Prince Wan Waithayakon of Thailand, the Soviet delegation accused the United States of aggressive actions around the globe. It said these actions "create a threat to peace and security" and asked the Assembly to consider the complaint without delay.

The Western reaction was quick. The U.S. delegation spokesman retorted that "we feel that at the time the General Assembly is dealing with an agenda containing crucial matters, to tax it with absurd charges is a mockery of the United Nations purposes."

The British spokesman joined in assailing the proposal. He said debate on it would be a "melancholy waste of time, a deplorable attempt to exploit for propaganda purposes the facilities under the charter which were intended for the harmonizing of differences and for working for peace."

The Russians continued to attack President Eisenhower's Middle East doctrine on the grounds that it was intended to enslave the peoples of the middle east.

The Russians also said the United States committed aggression on a global scale by setting up military bases in Western Europe, Turkey, Iran, Japan and Okinawa which were capable of handling atomic weapons.

Receives Engineers Award

Donald Price (left) was awarded a life membership in the Nebraska Section of the American Society of Civil Engineers at a Wednesday night meeting of the organization. Making the presentation was Dean Roy Green of the University of Nebraska Engineering College. Others awarded life memberships but not present were Robert L. Cochran, former Nebraska governor and former state engineer; and A. L. Ogle, senior engineer in the bridge design section of the Nebraska Highway Department. (Star Photo)

Civil Engineers Honor Three

Life memberships in the Nebraska Section of the American Society of Civil Engineers were awarded to three members Wednesday night.

They are Robert L. Cochran, former Nebraska governor and former state engineer; A. L. Ogle, senior engineer in the bridge design section of the Nebraska Highway Department, and Donald D. Price, former state engineer who has a private engineering office in Lincoln, serving municipalities, counties and states.

Cochran, a veteran of World War I, was a consulting engineer in North Platte and division engineer with the Nebraska State Highway Department from 1919 to 1922.

He was elected governor in 1934 and served three full terms through 1940.

As a civilian he served the United States from 1942 to 1956 as assistant commissioner for the Federal Public Housing Authority, special representative of United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, chief of the Civil Works section of the U.S. Bureau of the Budget and special assistant in Civil Works.

Ogle has been with the Nebraska Highway Department since 1919 and was project engineer on construction from 1919 to 1925. Since 1925 he has been in the bridge design office working on plans for bridges built throughout the state. Price served as assistant state engineer from 1909 to 1911 and then as state engineer until 1915. In the latter position he was responsible for the administration of the State Aide Bridge Law and supervised the preparation of the first standard set of bridge plans for Nebraska.

From 1917 to 1924 he lived at Gothenburg where he was in the elevator and lumber business and served as city postmaster.

Since 1924 he has served as an engineer for contractors and on defense work in Nebraska, Missouri, Canada and Alaska.

He has had a private engineering office in Lincoln since 1944.

Roy Green, dean of the University of Nebraska Engineering College, made the awards, and also addressed the group. Other speakers were Kimball A. Roddy, Ronald A. Hazard, Douglas Thorpe and Leo P. Wutke, all University of Nebraska civil engineering students.

Nebraska Has Six Airports OK For Transport Jets

OMAHA (AP) — A major plane manufacturer said Wednesday that six Nebraska airports have runways suitable for long-range commercial jet operations.

The list, published by Convair division of General Dynamics Corp. of San Diego, Calif., included 153 American airports with runways long enough for Convair's 880 transport which will be used by some airlines within three years.

Nebraska airports listed included Alliance, Grand Island, Lincoln, North Platte, Scottsbluff and Omaha. All but North Platte would permit the craft to take off with fuel for trips of 2,500 miles or more.

Companion Suits Following Accident Total $100,000

Companion suits totaling $100,000 as the alleged result of car-pedestrian accident last Nov. 1 on U.S. 6 about a mile west of Lincoln were filed in Lancaster District Court.

Mrs? Mayme Kaeding, 39, 231 No. 1st, asks $60,000 for personal injuries when she was allegedly struck by a car.

Her suit names Leland R. Buchan, 30, Huskerville, as defendant and driver of the car.

Andrew Kaeding seeks $40,000 in a separate suit for his wife's medical expenses and loss of consortium of his wife.

Man Changes Plea, Draws $300 Fine For Drunk-Drive

LeRoy Hiskey, 61, 4332 L, was fined $300 and sentenced to a five-day jail term in Lancaster District Court after changing his plea to guilty on a charge of second-offense drunk driving last Nov. 17.

Judge Harry Spencer also suspended Hiskey's drivers license for one year.

Hiskey had appealed from a Municipal Court conviction and judgment of $300 fine, 30-day jail term, one year's license suspension and impoundment of car for three months.

President Bags 22-Pound Turkey On Whitney Farm

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (INS) — President Eisenhower added to his growing reputation as a hunter Wednesday by bagging a 22-pound 2-ounce wild turkey.

He brought down the big gobbler, one of the largest ever seen in the locality, on a plantation owned by John Hay (Jock) Whitney, new U.S. ambassador to Great Britain.

A hunting party made up of the President, Whitney and Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey had bagged 18 quail during the morning.

George Allen, Mr. Eisenhower's close friend and Gettysburg neighbor, joined the turkey hunt in the afternoon, and either he or Humphrey brought down a 15-pound bird, the only other turkey shot by the party.

The hunters and several friends, who went along as spectators, had lunch at the plantation.

Mr. Eisenhower held his second telephone conference of the day with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles during the luncheon break. Both talks involved the Middle East situation.

Council Rejects Zone Change At 52nd And Fremont

The City Planning Commission has turned down a controversial proposed change in zoning at 52nd and Fremont.

The change, from four-family and single-family to local business, was sought by the Lincoln Home Builders Inc. Petitions both for and against the change, signed by residents of the area, were presented to the Commission.

Attorney Willis Hecht spoke in opposition for the Lincoln School District.

Also denied by the Commission was a proposed change from single family to local business zoning at the northeast corner of the intersection of 56th and Holdrege.

Amended Bills Exempt Fringe Businesses From City Control

Bills giving cities regulatory powers over fringe areas outside city limits were advanced from select file Wednesday after the Legislature amended them to exempt existing farms and businesses from the proposed controls.

LB 74 gives first class cities power to regulate such matters as zoning and sanitation in an area extending one mile from the city limits.

A companion bill, LB 75, gives similar authority to second class cities and villages, but only within a one-half mile area.

Amendments proposed by Sen. Marvin Lautenschlager of Grand Island, adopted with advancement of the bills from general file, exempt existing farming and livestock operations, businesses and industries from such regulation.

Voting Registration

Also advancing from general file in its first floor test was LB 95, which would change a voting registration requirement in cities of 7,000 to 40,000 population.

The measure, introduced by Sen. Ray Simmons of Fremont, makes a registration permanent unless the voter moves or fails to vote in two consecutive elections.

Present law requires voters in those cities to re-register every six years.

Another measure advanced from general file was LB 104, regulating trailer courts.

SIX BILLS PASS; ONE LETS BEER DRINKERS STAND UP

The Unicameral Wednesday passed on final reading and sent to the governor six bills, including LB 122 which allows tavern beer drinkers to imbibe while standing up.

The vote was 41-0 on that measure, introduced by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff.

Present law requires beer drinkers to be seated when served, although there is no such restriction on persons drinking hard liquor.

Other bills passed on final reading:

LB 65, by Sens. Foote, Thompson—providing funds to finance costs of teachers' institutes (36-5).

LB 114, by Sens. Wood, Tews—clarifying definition of embalming practice (41-0).

LB 105, by Sens. Bridenbaugh, Wood, Portsche—regulating public mausoleums or columbariums (40-0).

LB 195, by Sens. Syas, Bridenbaugh, Bahensky — appropriating money taken in under the 1955 Upland Game Bird Stamp Act (41-0).

LB 117, by Sens. Liebers, Tews—deleting from personal property tax schedule the question relating to military service of taxpayer or family (42-0).

U.N. Unit Asks France, Algeria To End Bloodshed

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U. N. Political Committee Wednesday called on France and the Algerian people to enter into negotiations to end the bloodshed in North Africa.

The committee acted after turning down a stronger Asian-Arab proposal demanding that France grant Algerians the right of determining their future status.

The Algerian question now goes to the General Assembly, where there appeared little likelihood that any proposal would receive the needed two thirds majority for approval.

France had fought any U.N. action on Algeria and had served notice it would ignore any recommendations the United Nations might make.

By a vote of 37 in favor and 27 opposed, the 80-nation political Committee approved a resolution declaring that the Algerian situation "may be normalized by the joint efforts in conformity with the principles of the charter of the United Nations."

The resolution, sponsored by Japan, Philippines and Thailand, expressed hope that France and the Algerian people "will endeavor through appropriate negotiations, to bring about an end of bloodshed and the peaceful settlement of the present difficulties."

A more mildly worded resolution was also approved by a vote of 41 in favor and 33 opposed with 3 abstentions.

This proposal would merely have the General Assembly express hope that a "peaceful and democratic solution" can be found in Ageria. It was sponsored by Argentina, Brazil, Cuba, Italy, Peru and the Dominican Republic.

France was present in the 80-nation committee but explained it would not cast a ballot on any of the resolutions, because it regards Algeria as an internal matter not of any concern to the United Nations. Hungary and South Africa are boycotting present assembly sessions.

The 18-nation resolution, which was supported by the entire Soviet bloc, was declared dead by committee chairman Victor A. Belaunde of Peru when two vital paragraphs failed to win a plurality.

By a vote of 34 opposed and 33 in favor the committee turned down a paragraph which would request France to recognize the right of the people of Algeria to "exercise their fundamental right of self-determination." Ten abstained.

By a similar vote the committee also turned down a paragraph which invited France and the "people of Algeria" to enter negotiations with a view of ending hostilities and achieving a peaceful settlement of differences.

France has put priority on a cease-fire agreement before it will enter into any talks with the Algerian Nationalists.

Mayor 'Pleased' As Consultant Lauds New Auditorium

Mayor Bennett Martin said he was "very pleased" with points brought up about Lincoln Pershing Municipal Auditorium by Benjamin C. Moore, the city's auditorium consultant from Spokane, Wash.

In Lincoln for a three-day visit prior to the March 10 opening of the auditorium, Moore told members of the City Council that the city has an outstanding auditorium.

The permanent seating, he said, is superior to that found in many auditoriums costing $5 and $6 million. The stage, he said, is also a very attractive feature and offers much more than most stages.

Moore's original contract with Lincoln called for a final visit prior to the opening. He has assisted the city with all auditorium planning and purchasing.

U.S. Missile Fired To Start Power Show

WITH THE U.S. SIXTH FLEET IN THE MEDITERRANEAN (INS)—The first guided missile fired in the Mediterranean has launched "Green Epoch."

"Green Epoch" is the operational name for the huge maneuvers being conducted by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

The land, sea and air forces of five member countries are participating.

The U.S. Navy announced Wednesday the missile was fired from the 13,600-ton U.S. cruiser Boston. Details of the firing were not given out.

Lieut. Gen. Hans Speidel, newly appointed commander of Allied Forces in Central Europe, and Dr. Joseph Rust, West German under secretary of defense, were among officials who witnessed firing of the missile.

The Boston, which belongs to the southern European naval striking support force, is taking part in her first NATO exercise.

The super carrier Forrestal also made her Mediterranean debut.

24 Counties Get Extra Corn Soil Bank Funds; State Office 'Broke'

By HARRIET ASHLEY
Star Staff Writer

A total of 24 counties Wednesday had received additional corn soil bank funds and the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office was out of money.

Robert Webb, state ASC administrative officer, said a reserve fund of $1.4 million held back by the ASC was exhausted early Wednesday and additional funds were received from two counties.

Most of the counties that received extra funds went through that money Wednesday and were taking names of more applicants in case additional funds become available.

The state ASC office wired Washington officials Tuesday night in an attempt to get additional funds to pay Nebraska farmers for taking corn land out of production.

Webb said he hoped for money from states like Illinois and Ohio, which had good crops and rainfall.

Dawson, Lincoln Send Funds

Heavily irrigated counties where sign-ups are not strong were asked to turn back part of their allocations. Dawson County has already turned back $300,000 and Lincoln County sent in $50,000.

Webb said it was doubtful that counties like Polk, which has received an additional $150,000 besides its original allocation of $260,619, would be able to get more money.

Polk has signed up 681 agreements, has used up all available funds including the extra allocation, and has names of 200 additional farmers who want to sign up.

A summary of counties, most of which have run out of soil bank funds and additional funds, shows:

Butler — Out of funds, including additional allotment; 709 signed, have names of 50 more agreements with 40 per cent of eligible farmers.

Colfax — Out of funds, including additional allotment; 521 signed; 113 names; 25 per cent eligible are signed up.

Gage — Original allocation exhausted; more than 700 signed (about 60 per cent of those eligible).

Hall — Will probably use entire allocation, but not out; expect no surplus funds available for other counties.

Madison — Nearly out of funds including additional $100,000, 627 signed (about one-third of those eligible).

Platte — Out of funds, including additional; 834 signed (about 30 per cent of those eligible); have 250 names.

Polk — Out of funds; 681 signed of 1,626 eligible; have taken 200 names.

Saunders — Ran out of funds Wednesday night; signed 920 (about 33 per cent of those eligible).

Seward — 617 are signed, about 33 per cent of those eligible.

Additional funds given 24 counties:

Butler	$100,000	Nuckolls	$ 75,000
Colfax	100,000	Pawnee	75,000
Fillmore	75,000	Platte	100,000
Franklin	64,000	Polk	150,000
Furnas	40,000	Saunders	100,000
Gage	100,000	Seward	80,000

Firemen Hurt

DETROIT (INS)—Five firemen were injured fighting a $600,000 fire that destroyed a Detroit plumbing and steamfitting supply company.

The fire at the Coon-Devisser Co. for a time threatened to engulf other buildings in the area.

'Open Primary' Bill Advances Out To Floor

A measure calling for sweeping changes in the Nebraska primary ballot was advanced to the floor of the Legislature Wednesday on a 4-2 vote by the Government Committee.

LB 342, introduced by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, provides for a single ballot in the primary, enabling voters to "cross party lines."

Sen. Carpenter said the proposed ballot would give the voters a wider selection of candidates as well as stimulate interest in the primary.

He said the independent voter now is "disenfranchised" in the primary because he must choose between a Republican or Democratic Party ballot.

The suggested ballot would enable voters to select a candidate for any office of either party.

GOP Opposes Bill

Opposition came primarily from Don Ross, representing the Nebraska Republican Party. He said, "We believe each political party should be given the right to select its own cadidates for the general election . . . and be responsible for those candidates."

The current primary system requiring the voters to select a party ballot "makes him think of the issues involved," Ross said.

Some observers predicted a heated fight in the making with advancement of the controversial measure to the floor.

Proof Of Tax Payment

In other action by the Committee, LB 297, providing that vehicle owners show proof of payment of personal taxes upon registration of a vehicle, was unanimously advanced to general file. The measure was introduced by Sen. David Tews.

LB 336, introduced by Sens. Fay Wood and LeRoy Bahensky, was indefinitely postponed. It provides that owners be required to show drivers licenses when registering their vehicles.

The committee also held for study LB 191, which sets certain standards on automobile utility trailers. It was introduced by Sen. Stanley Portsche of Lincoln.

Three Men Given Penal Sentences

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP)—Three men were given penal sentences and another placed on parole for five years by District Judge John Kuns.

All pleaded guilty to charges against them.

Bill Dickinson, Lodgepole, got three years in the penitentiary for forgery; Mike Nehan, Sidney, received a three year term in the reformatory for breaking and entering, and Harold Salazar, Ordville, was sentenced to from one to three years in the reformatory for parole violation.

The five year probation went to Danny Virgil, Sidney, charged with assault with intent to do great bodily injury.

U.S. Lease-Purchase Building Plan Dropped

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's lease-purchase construction program, which was to have dotted the nation with new post offices and federal buildings, was laid aside indefinitely Wednesday.

Officials said this was in line with the Eisenhower administration policy of combatting inflation by deferring projects where feasible. They did not mention it, but the lease-purchase plan has run into difficulties due to tight money.

Announcing the suspension of the program, which called for the construction of 97 buildings costing nearly 700 million dollars, Franklin G. Floete, General Services administrator said:

"Further offers of bids for construction of buildings under lease-purchase contracts will be temporarily deferred.

Rejected

"All bids received to date have been rejected and pending negotiations suspended.

"It should be emphasized that when present inflationary pressures in the construction industry recede, advertising of these and other projects will be resumed, since it is important to move ahead on needed construction of government buildings.

"In the meantime, GSA will proceed with the preparation of architectural and engineering designs and with the acquisition of sites for projects approved under the lease-purchase program to the extent of the funds available."

The lease-purchase device was thought up as a way for the government to get needed buildings without putting out all the money at once.

Private Firms

It contemplated the construction of buildings by private firms or individuals, to government specifications. The government would pay the builder over a period of 10 to 25 years; the theory was that the money would come from funds now used to rent space for federal agencies.

Floete, in calling things to a halt, said this was in furtherance of President Eisenhower's call for postponement of work where it could be deferred, with the idea of aggravating inflationary pressure.

Floete made no mention of difficulties which the program has run into since late last summer, primarily because of the tight money market. Last fall GSA revised its regulations to make the program more attractive to private investors.

In December, the GSA asked for bids for financing and building eight projects. It received offers on only six, and these six bids were rejected last month.

Six Appointed To Fire-Police Study Group

Mayor Bennett Martin has appointed a committee to study the results of Lincoln's recent partial integration of fire and police activities.

The committee will consist of Councilman Ray Osborn, Fire Chief E. Paul Feaster, Police Chief Joseph Carroll, Welfare and Safety Director Emmett Junge, Personnel Director Ray Ramsey and Co-ordinator James Mallon.

If the committee desires, Martin said, it may call in a fireman and policeman as members of the group.

The study is to determine whether the integration plan should be permanent. Osborn pointed out last week that such a determination should be made before the city's next budget year begins.

If the plan is made permanent, he said, it will affect salaries and hours of work of the two departments involved.

Under the plan, firemen serve as the second man in police cruiser cars during certain hours of the day.

Church To Mark End Of 1st Step In Relocation Plan

Members of Vine Congregational Church will mark the completion of the first step in their relocation project, with dedication of their new parsonage at 1825 Twin Ridge Road, Sunday at 3 p.m.

Mrs. Byron Tullis, Mrs. C. F. Gutch, Mrs. Walter Magee, Mrs. Verne A. Spindell and Miss Alice M. Brown, officers of the Women's Association of the church which has built the new parsonage, will conduct the ceremony. Dr. Arthur W. Taylor, minister of the Nebraska Congregational Conference, will give the prayer of dedication.

Edwin M. Geistlinger, chairman of the board of trustees; Mrs. Byron Tullis, president of the Women's Association; and Mrs. Verne Spindell, wife of the pastor, will participate in the Ceremony of the key. The choir, under the direction of Ivan Caldwell, will sing "Bless This House."

Construction of the new Vine Congregational Church building to be located across the street from the parsonage, is scheduled to begin this spring.

Broken Bow Irrigation Clinic Draws 600

Value Of Nitrogen Stressed

BROKEN BOW, Neb. — An irrigation farmer reports that an application of 110 pounds of available nitrogen per acre on corn was not enough on his farm in 1956.

Darrel Nelson of Ocnto told 600 persons attending the central Nebraska irrigation clinic here Wednesday that he increased yields 20 bushels per acre on a portion of his corn field by making an additional application of 40 pounds of nitrogen per acre. Cost of the additional nitrogen was $3.50 per acre.

162 Bu. Per Acre

Nelson posted the highest yield of 162 bushels per acre in the 1956 "Reach for Top Corn Yield Program" in Custer County, according to M. L. Gould, county agent and moderator of a panel where Nelson appeared.

Nelson planted the corn in 38 inch rows with a spacing of 7¼ inches between seeds. After cultivation he established that seeding rate produced 16,000 plants per acre. The corn yielded 119 ears to 100 feet of row. The ears averaged about 11 ounces each.

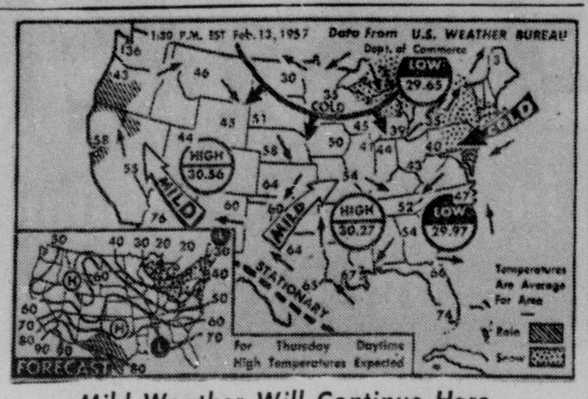
Otis Wilson, a member of the panel from Litchfield, reported he was able to pasture 25 head of cattle on eight irrigated acres all summer in 1956. He uses a pasture mixture of intermediate wheat grass, bromegrass, alfalfa, and orchard grass.

Forage Plan

Ten acres of irrigated vetch and rye pasture furnished feed for 50 cows during August, September and October, reported Pete Parr, who farms northwest of here. In addition to providing forage in the fall when permanent pastures are short in dry years, Parr says his irrigated pasture supplies some forage in the winter and again in the spring.

Charles Sargent of Broken Bow reported he harvests corn with a special corn harvester. This machine is a combination corn picker and forage harvester. The forage is made into silage while the machine separates the ears. Last year he raised seven to eight tons of forage and 100 bushels of corn per acre on the average.

In summing up the panel discussion, John Decker, district extension engineer, said it is important to get water at the lowest possible cost and make the best possible use of that water. This can be accomplished by careful planning and making liberal water application to keep the soil moist, he explained.



Mild Weather Will Continue Here

There will be snow in most of New England, the northern Appalachians and the Great Lakes area Thursday. Southern Texas will have scattered showers. It will be clear to partly cloudy elsewhere. Colder weather is due in the upper Mississippi Valley and the Lakes region. It will be warmer in the northeast. Little change is expected elsewhere. (AP Wirephoto Map).

CONSTIPATED?
new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks
without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

AND, OF ALL LAXATIVES, only COLONAID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAID'S great moisturizing capacity plus COLONAID'S stretch-stimulating bulk that activates normal colonic reflexes. So effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Superior's Lady Mayor Chalks Up Several Improvements In Town

By BILL HINEL
Star Staff Writer

SUPERIOR, Neb. — Much of the credit for getting a $233,000 sewage disposal plant in the mill for Superior is due Mrs. Arabella Hanna, one of Nebraska's few women mayors.

Mrs. Hanna, who is serving her first term as mayor after a rather controversial election, has had a hand in several of the city's new improvements. They include a new band shell in city park; a new municipal code being written; 20 blocks of armor coating on the city's streets; and enlarging of the waterworks which will double capacity. Plans for a sewage disposal plant are also being completed.

Federal Aid

Superior is one of eight Nebraska towns with priority for federal aid in building such plants. The government will pay 30 per cent of the cost of the new plants, which in the case of Superior would be about $70,130. The city would have to pay about $163,635 on the $233,000 plant.

The proposed plant is being planned on the basis of 12,000 population, although actually Superior is not that big but is heavily industrialized. The city has a complete sewerage system with an outlet into the Republican River about three-fourths of a mile southeast of the city. The new plant would be built close to this outlet and connected with the 18-inch outfall sewer.

Water Project

Superior discharges about 282,240 gallons of sewage daily, using 346,000 gallons of water. There are 1,098 meter installations. The project would be financed by revenue bonds based on a water usage tax. The plant will be a complete treatment plant.

The city is presently completing a $40,000 water plant improvement project which will add four new filter bins; two new pumps and an addition to the plant building. The project will more than double the filter plant capacity. For the time being, only two of the new bins will be used with the other two held in reserve until needed.

Bonds Forfeited For Men Involved In Vagrancy Case

OMAHA (AP) — District Judge Patrick W. Lynch has issued a decree forfeiting $3,000 in bonds put up by three men involved in vagrancy conviction appeals.

A year ago the three were convicted of vagrancy in municipal court and bondsman Anthony Vinci put up a $1,000 bond for each on an appeal to District Court.

In March of last year the three were arrested in Hot Springs, Ark., and their attorneys dropped the appeals here, but the judge held the bonds still in effect.

Suburbia

Eastborough residents seem to be busy entertaining these days. But there is nothing unusual about extending courtesies out in that suburban area, especially when there are new neighbors to welcome and others leaving the community for their new homes out of the state.

Residents on West Rio Road in Eastborough soon will be saying goodby to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rider and their two children, Gayle and Cheryl. Understand that Mr. Rider is leaving for Kansas City, Kan., in two weeks and the other family members will join him later at their new home in Kansas.

Visiting in Stilwell, Kan., last week end were T./Sgt. and Mrs. Ray Brinkman, and their children, Susie, Buddy, Ricky, Bobby and Cheri. The Brinkmans were the guests of T./Sgt. Brinkman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Brinkman. Mr. Brinkman and his oldest daughter, Susie, returned to Eastborough Sunday, but the other members of the family will remain in Kansas for an extended visit.

Off for a week's visit in Carroll, Ia., will be Mrs. Harry Rust and Jimmy, who will leave Sunday. Mrs. Rust and her son will be the guests of Mrs. Rust's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Smith, and also will visit Mr. Rust's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rust.

A dinner party at the home of Sgt. and Mrs. Robert Morgan was enjoyed by three neighborhood couples on Tuesday evening. Guests for the dinner and informal evening of visiting were Mr. and Mrs. Reg Davies, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harrington and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Dreezen.

Mention of the Morgans reminds us that Sgt. Morgan is leaving Friday for Springfield, Mass., where he will be stationed at Westover Air Force Base. Sgt. Morgan will return to Eastborough in six weeks.

Town Talk

IT'S Valentine's Day—just in case you hadn't noticed—but oddly enough our off-campus news this morning has nothing to do with St. Valentine—but considerable to do with Dr. Kalle Emil Kallio of Helsinki, Finland, who arrived in Lincoln on Tuesday evening to spend several days as the house guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. E. M. Thomson.

Complimenting Dr. Kallio on Wednesday evening were Col. and Mrs. Harry Cunningham who entertained a small group of guests at an hors d' oeuvres party at their home.

Francis Cunningham, son of Col. and Mrs. Cunningham, is a member of the American Embassy staff in Helsinki, and is a friend of Dr. Kallio's.

* * *

TODAY Dr. Kallio will go to Grand Island where he will visit the Veterans' Hospital—but the courtesies for him begin again on Friday when Dr. and Mrs. John C. Thompson and Dr. and Mrs. Harry E. Flansburg are hosts and hostesses at dinner at the Lincoln Country Club. Only a small group of guests has been invited.

* * *

THEN comes Saturday and a stag luncheon for which Dr. James Mac Woodward will be host when he entertains at the Lincoln Country Club.

And on Sunday morning Dr. Kallio and Dr. and Mrs. Thomson will be the breakfast guests of Dr. and Mrs. Norman Carlson at their home, The Knolls.

We think it's interesting that Miss Nan Carlson, who spent a summer in Finland as an American Field Service student, spent a day with Dr. Kallio and his family at their summer home.

* * *

WE waited and waited on Tuesday evening to see whether it would be Nancy Jane Pegler or Donald Howard Pegler, III, who would be arriving at Lincoln General Hospital on the famous Feb. 12 anniversary—But Donald Howard, III, did not put in an appearance until early Wednesday.

As you probably know the young man is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pegler, Jr., and his mother is the former JoAnn Guenzel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Guenzel. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pegler are the paternal grandparents.

Phi Kappa Tau

Members of the Phi Kappa Tau Alliance will hold their regular meeting on Friday evening at the chapter house. The program will begin at 7:30 o'clock, and chairman in charge of arrangements will be Mrs. Seymour Lee.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

BROWN HALTS SMITH IN 11TH

Champ Defends Lightweight Title

By JACK HAND

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Joe Brown, a fancy dancer with a pin point left, sliced up Wallace Bud Smith and stopped the sluggish ex-champ on an 11th round technical knockout Wednesday night to retain his world lightweight title in his first defense.

Dr. Alexander Robbins of the Miami Beach City Commission ordered Referee James Peerless to halt the uneven contest at the urging of Adolph Ritacco, one of Smith's handlers.

Ritacco said Smith, who was completely outclassed in Miami Beach's first title fight, was unable to see out of his left eye after the fourth round.

As Dr. Robbins climbed out of the ring, he was asked whether Smith's eye or his cut mouth prompted him to stop it. The doctor answered, "I think it's his reflexes."

Smith, who lost the 135-pound crown to Brown on a split decision, Aug. 24 in Brown's home town of New Orleans never was in this dull contest that drew boos and catcalls from the capacity crowd of 4,129 that paid $23,081 to see the nationally televised bout. The Miami area was blacked out on TV.

Although Brown never was able to drop the 27-year-old former champion, he cut him around the right eye, almost closed the left and drew blood from his mouth and nose.

The three officials had scored it in lopsided fashion for 30-year-old Brown before it was stopped. Although they only fought 10 rounds, it went as an 11th round TKO under Miami Beach rules. Referee James Peerless had it 100-91 for Brown, Judge Stu Winston saw it 99-92 and Judge Eddie Thal 100-91 for Brown.

The "10 must" point system was used, meaning the winner of a round got 10 points and the loser nine, eight and so on.

If the fight had been scored by rounds the cards would have read 8-1-1, 8-0-2 and 8-0-2. The only man to have Smith on top in a single round was Judge Winston, who gave him the eighth. The AP card had it Brown all the way with the seventh even.

Brown, who weighed 134¾ pounds to 134 for Smith, started a paint brush job on Smith as early as the first round. He was dancing and moving back, jabbing as he went while the sluggish Smith missed and failed to take advantage of his openings.

As early as the second round it seemed Browr was sure to stop Smith in short order. Just before the second ended, Brown landed a solid left-right combination and drove Smith to the ropes with a right to the chin. Smith returned to his corner on wobbly legs.

Guess Again—Brown Won

Lightweight champion Joe Brown of New Orleans hits the deck after slipping in the third round of his fight with Bud Smith of Cincinnati in their title match at Miami Beach, Fla. Wednesday night. Brown wasn't hit in the fall and recovered quickly to go on with his title defense against Smith with an 11th round TKO. (AP Wirephoto).

Third Party Joins 2-Mile Skirmish

NEW YORK (AP) — Horace Ashenfelter and Laszlo Tabori—familiar names to the track and field set—will meet again in the two-mile run at the New York Athletic Club games in Madison Square Garden Saturday.

Ashenfelter, the 33-year-old G-man, holds the world indoor record of 8:50.5 for the distance. Tabori, the Hungarian who is a member in good standing of the 4-minute-mile club founded by Roger Bannister, has high hopes of lowering it.

But there's a little-known fellow who will be right in there and who could very well lick them both.

The name is John Macy and, like Tabori, he is a refugee from Communist oppression. Macy is from Poland, Tabori from Hungary.

Macy is a little guy whose real last name is almost as long as he is tall. It's Miecznikowski. As soon as he arrived here he changed it.

Until a couple of weeks ago, Macy, now a student at the University of Houston, was a virtual unknown in the U.S. Although before he escaped from Poland in 1954 and made his way to Buffalo, N.Y., he had been one of Poland's better distance runners.

In the two-mile race at the Philadelphia Inquirer meet, Macy went out ahead of the pack and hit the mile in 4:22, far too fast for a two-mile run. He killed himself off.

But the next night in Washington he permitted Tabori and Ashenfelter to set the pace. He reached the mile in 4:31 and went on to win the race in 9:02.6. Now many coaches in the East believe him capable of an 8:50 effort.

Verdigre Hero Star Of Week

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Writer

When a high school basketball player wins a game with a basket in the final seconds of play, it makes him a hero for some time.

So LeRoy Johnson of Verdigre will have a special niche in the memory of his hometown followers for a long, long time. In three games last week, his shots in the closing seconds won for Verdigre.

Johnson is The Star's "Basketball Player of the Week." Here is what he did in the Niobrara Valley Tournament at Butte:

Beat Lynch with a basket in the last second of a first-round game.

Beat Center with a shot in the last five seconds of the semifinals. The score was 45-44, and the loss ended an 18-game Center win streak.

Beat Spencer in the finals with a bucket in the closing seconds of the overtime period. The score was 52-51, and also an upset. Johnson was high scorer with 22 points.

Other standouts in last week's prep games:

Aaron Nordyke, Neligh—His free throw on a double foul in the final minute was the difference in 62-61 win over Madison.

Larry Dankenbring, Hebron—His jumper from the corner in the last seven seconds broke a tie as Hebron beat University High 50-48.

J. V. Olson, University High — Late bucket eclipsed Class A Crete.

Don Reznicek, Clarkson—Long drive and layup in last 10 seconds handed Clarkson the Stanton Invitational crown with finals victory over Stanton.

Tom Sheldon, Lexington—Free throws in last five seconds of overtime edged Gothenburg.

Ken Dahl, Wayne—Popped in 43 points as Wayne steam-rollered South Sioux City.

Brian Etheridge, Lincoln—Top goalie job boosted Links past North Platte.

Milton Juan, Boys Town — Peppery guard hit for 40 against Council Bluffs Abraham Lincoln.

Bill Miller, Chappell—Veteran guard hit 26 points as Chappell won number 16 over Paxton.

Tom Cone, Gordon—Free throw in last 20 seconds pushed Gordon past Rushville, 49-48.

Tom Ernst, Columbus — Sophomore guard's defensive play, six fielders and four free throws keyed Columbus win over Seward.

Sam Sample, Fullerton — 12 buckets riddled St. Edward.

Don Vonderfecht, Holbrook—Sizzled for 31 against Wilsonville.

Ken an Larry Dostal, Scribner—Brothers hit 41 points (Ken 21, Larry 20) against Snyder.

Wrong-Way Tip Boosts Stratton

BENKELMAN — An accidental tip-in in the wrong basket by a Benkelman player helped Stratton to a 42-41 victory in the first round of the Frenchman Valley basketball tournament here Wednesday night.

Benkelman led by three points with two minutes to go. In an under-basket scramble for a rebound, a Benkelman player inadvertently tipped the ball in the wrong goal. Stratton then won on two free throws.

In other first-round games Palisade beat Parks, 54-43; Culbertson beat Hayes Center, 53-43, and Imperial took the measure of Max, 55-47.

In the second round Thursday Imperial meets Grant, Culbertson plays Wauneta, Stratton meets Haigler and Trenton plays Palisade.

NELLIE FOX SIGNS PACT

CHICAGO (INS)—The Chicago White Sox announced Wednesday that second baseman Nelson Jacob Fox has agreed to terms for the 1957 season.

The Sox said that in a telephone conversation with Fox from his St. Thomas, Pa., home, "Little Nel" said he would accept the contract sent to him and mail it back.

He is the 31st member of the team to agree to terms. The Sox also reported that Fox received an increase over the reported $27,000 he received last year and thus is the highest paid second baseman in club history.

Colgate Names Football Coach

HAMILTON, N. Y. (AP)—Colgate University Wednesday night announced the appointment of Fred Rice, backfield coach for the last five years, as head football coach.

President Everett Case said Rice, 38, would have the faculty rank of assistant professor of physical education.

Rice succeeds Hal Lahar, who resigned Jan. 17 to become head coach at the University of Houston.

Bradley Tips St. Louis

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Bradley's fifth-ranked Braves were never headed in the last half Wednesday night in defeating St. Louis 76-70 to tie Wichita for the lead in the Missouri Valley Conference basketball race.

Sooner Runner

Gary Parr, Oklahoma half-miler, will be one of the Sooners' chief threats when they invade the University of Nebraska indoor plant for a dual meet Saturday. Parr's indoor 880 clocking of 1:56.3 against Kansas is the best in the Big Seven to date.

Ft. Wayne Decision Due Today

DETROIT (AP)—Officials of the Ft. Wayne Zollner Pistons will meet for the fourth time today with Detroit officials and are expected to announce whether the Pistons will shift their National Basketball Assn. franchise to the motor city.

Regarded as one of the Nation's "hottest" towns when it comes to football and baseball, Detroit is far from a sure thing on professional basketball. The city had a team in 1946, when the NBA was first organized, but the response wasn't sufficient to keep the team here more than one year.

Despite that, the fact that Fred Zollner, millionaire owner of the Pistons, and general manager Otto W. Adams have met three times with Nick Londes of Olympia Stadium indicates there is a good chance the club will find itself in Detroit come the 1957-58 season.

NFL - Canada War Said Over

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Professional football on an international basis is just one big happy family, National Football League Commissioner Bert Bell and his Canadian counterpart, Ralph Cooper, said Wednesday.

Cooper, who journeyed over from New York to pay a surprise visit on Bell, described 1956 as a year of "very fine cooperation" between the two circuits.

"There were one or two problems which came up, but nothing we couldn't iron out over the telephone," said the President of the Canadian Pro Football Council.

Cooper, who finally has earned the power to act for as well as represent the nine Canadian teams, said that to his knowledge there wasn't one case of player raiding last year. "We honored each others contracts and option," he said. Bell concurred.

The Canadian, who owns part of the Hamilton Tiger Cats in the eastern half of the Canadian League, said both leagues had carried out to the letter the agreement reached last year. To all intent and purpose he said, the so-called war between the leagues is as dead as the proverbial dodo bird.

Cooper said the Canadian teams experienced their finest season at the gate with "seven of our nine teams well in the black. We are planning new and larger stadiums in some cities since football is now the most popular sport in Canada, hockey notwithstanding."

The Canadian executive reiterated what Commissioner Bell said several weeks ago following the Canadian court decision in the Tom Dublinski case. "As far as we're concerned, the ruling handed down was for the betterment of Canadian football and all pro football."

Dublinski was the Detroit Lions' quarterback who jumped to the Canadian League. The Lions sought an injunction to prevent him from playing in Canada. A Canadian federal court ruled that Dublinski had jumped his contract with Detroit and ordered him to pay $6,950, plus legal fees and court costs. Bell and Cooper agree that this decision will make players as well as clubs think twice before moving from one league to another in violation of existing contracts.

Art Aragon Sobs During Fix Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ring-scarred Art Aragon, once a high ranking welterweight, broke into sobs on the witness stand Wednesday during his trial on felony fight fixing charges.

"Do you think it proper to advise boxers to stay down if they are not knocked out?" asked Dep. Dist. Atty. William Ritzi, referring to Aragon's testimony that he frequently tells his opponents exactly that.

The Golden Boy paused. Then, breaking into tears, replied:

"Mr. Ritzi. . . . One of my good friends was killed in the ring."

He was referring to Jimmy Doyle, a boyhood chum from East Los Angeles who died after being knocked out in 1947 by then welterweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson in Cleveland.

Superior Judge Herbert D. Walker called a short recess as Aragon sat in the witness box crying into a handkerchief.

Aragon had testified that before a scheduled 10-rounder Dec. 18 in San Antonio, Tex., he told a boxer Dick Goldstein "not to be a hero."

"I do not like to hurt fighters," Aragon said. "I told Goldstein that many times."

Goldstein, an unranked welterweight who now lives in Seattle, charges that Aragon offered him $500 to take a fourth round dive. The bout was canceled when Aragon turned up with a fever the night of the fight.

After the recess, Aragon again was asked if he thought it proper to advise an opponent to deliberately take a 10-count.

"Yes, sir," answered Aragon and Ritzi ended the cross examination.

Under questioning by his attorney and new manager, Paul Caruso, Aragon said he has frequently injured ring opponents.

Aragon's testimony that he loaned Goldstein the $174 plane fare to fly to San Antonio for the fight was backed up by Aragon's red-haired wife, Georgia.

Louisville Trounces Marquette, 99-79

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Louisville, the nation's eighth-ranked team took the lead in the opening seconds, rolling to a 25-point halftime lead and a 99-79 walkaway basketball victory over Marquette Wednesday night.

Guard Harold Andrews opened the scoring and all told picked up 22 points, joining teammates Jim Morgan, with 24, Charley Tyra, 17, and Jerry Dupont, 14, in the double figures.

BUSCH: '58 FLAG OR ELSE

Cards' Lane Has 2 Years To Win

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Frank Lane, baseball's most energetic trader, headed for Florida Wednesday faced with the task of bringing a National League pennant to St. Louis by 1958 or else.

That's the way owner August A. Busch Jr., laid it on the line to the Redbird general manager in a talk to the "Knights of The Cauliflower Ear" at their annual spring training party Tuesday night.

"I expect the Cardinals to come close to winning a pennant in 1957," Busch said, "and 1958 is going to be a sure thing or Frank Lane will be out."

The Cardinals early spring training camp opens tomorrow at St. Petersburg, Fla. That's where the 60-year-old Lane is headed after accepting his boss's challenge like this:

"Mr. Busch very subtly hinted he'd like a pennant. I'd better be very careful sending out my laundry late in the '58 season. Looks like I'm going to be here no longer than three years if I don't win.

"I'm tickled to death to accept Mr. Busch's challenge, If we don't win in '58, I'll be satisfied to move on. That's the rub of the green."

Busch smiled as he delivered his ultimatum to the fast-dealing Lane, who's reshuffled the Cardinals since coming here from the Chicago White Sox. Observers close to Busch, however, felt he wasn't kidding.

Lane will complete a three-year contract with the Cardinals in 1958. He reportedly draws $40,000 a year with an attendance clause that's understood to have upped his pay to more than $50,000 last season.

Busch, in his fifth season as owner, reportedly is annoyed because he felt a youth-movement Cardinal rebuilding program was delayed by some of Lane's deals, particularly those which sent Bill Virdon to the Pittsburgh Pirates and Jackie Brandt to the New York Giants.

Virdon and Brandt are both center fielders, now the most pressing need of the Redbirds. Bobby Del Greco, obtained for Virdon, can field but batted only a puny .215 last season.

Busch referred to center field as "that lousy spot" and said he wouldn't be surprised to see Stan (The Man) Musial, the team's $80,000-a-year handyman, rejoin Del Ennis and Wally Moon in the outfield.

The Redbird owner said "that tall boy" (Tom Alston) might be at first base, the post Musial played most of last season or "and it would break my heart to have to see it" Ken Boyer might have to move into the outfield with Alvin Dark shifting from shortstop to third base.

"It seems to me," Busch commented, "that every year since I've been in baseball, we've got the pennant 'long about this time of the year."

Tar Heels Post 20th Win, 72-69

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP)—The University of North Carolina, No. 1 ranked team in the nation, withstood a late rally by Wake Forest to post its 20th consecutive win Wednesday night 72-69 in an Atlantic Coast Conference basketball game.

After building up an 11-point lead with 3:33 left to play, North Carolina had to battle to stifle the Wake Forest rally which pulled to within 68-67 with a little more than a minute to go.

Lennie Rosenbluth, North Carolina's brilliant forward, sparked the attack with 24 points, hitting on 10 of 15 field goal attempts. Joe Quigg and Bob Cunningham had 14 each and Tommy Kearns 11.

Kansans Stunned As Beloved 'Minister' Arrested

. . . Performed Marriage Illegally

ELMDALE, Kan. (AP) — The shocked members of the Elmdale Christian Church wondered Wednesday about the lanky, persuasive man who has been their minister for nine months.

The "minister," Calvin Laskey, 43, was in the county jail under six months sentence for performing a marriage illegally. The FBI said he had a record of 26 previous felony convictions.

"He was the best preacher we ever had," said 88-year-old Miss Carrie Wood, a lifelong resident of this little Flinthills town of 135 population in eastern Kansas. "That man worked 24 hours a day. He worked so hard."

"We got value received," said George Dawson, Elmdale banker and a member of the church board.

"He didn't take a cent from us. That's the surprising thing about it."

Laskey, who went under the name of Dean Barton admitted to Justice of the Peace Robert Riggs that he wasn't a minister at all. He pleaded guilty to charges that he illegally married Joyce Bullock and John Sam Higgins last Dec. 2.

Laskey confirmed an FBI report that he has been in and out of jail for 20 years and has been convicted 26 times on felony charges, Sheriff Francis Towle said.

It was Towle who first began checking Laskey's background.

"When he first came to town he talked about how he'd been a Korean prisoner," Towle said. "He made speeches all over — church clubs, the Lions Club, on how tough it was. And he collected money for Korean relief.

"He told me he'd lost all his identification and money, but that he was most worried about his discharge papers," Towle said. "I asked him why he didn't get photostatic copies from the government and he told me you couldn't do that. Well, I knew that you could and made some inquiries."

Hard to Believe

It was hard for the people of Elmdale to believe Laskey had not been a war prisoner.

"I heard him one night at the Lions Club," said Richard Iliff, publisher of the Chase County Leader-News. "His story was full of blood and guts and I knew at least one woman burst into tears."

T. R. (Tom) Wells, a farmer and insurance agent, said he lent Laskey $120 to make a trip East. "But I don't figure I'm out anything," Wells said, "I think he balanced the scales by all the good he did. It might just be a case of split personality, some kind of insanity. The man appeared very pious and fooled us to a fare-you-well."

Church records were wiped out in the 1951 flood, so there is no accurate record of its membership. But most people agreed Laskey boosted attendance threefold. He was instructing a class of 15 at the time of his arrest. They were to become members of the church on Easter.

Towle said Laskey, a native of Alberta, Canada, was sent to a boys industrial school at Ottawa at the age of 14.

Job Seeker Total Sets New Post-War Record

The 19,102 registrations of persons actively seeking work in the state on Feb. 1 broke the previous post-war record for that date set a year ago when 17,456 persons were registered.

The total is far above the 14,831 seeking work on Jan. 1, 1957. Registrants on file in state employment offices the first of this month included 4,757 women.

Along with the sharp increase in job applicants, the Feb. 1 labor market reflected a rise in the number of unemployment insurance claimants and a decreased demand for workers.

Construction lay-offs in January were somewhat heavier than in the past several years. Manufacturing, principally food processing, produced job losses on a smaller scale.

Job placements during January, totaling 3,674, were off 26 per cent from December. Slightly more than 1,000 of the placements were on temporary jobs.

Only service and financial establishments hired more workers during January than a year ago, and these increases were small.

An average of 9,942 persons a week claimed unemployment insurance benefits in the state during the month, compared to 6,789 in December, 1956, and 9,448 in January, 1956.

Benefit payments from State funds totaled $846,105 in January, compared to $531,719 in December, 1956, and $734,899 in January, 1956.

Conditions around the state:

LINCOLN: Seasonal cutbacks in trade and construction resulted in 1,700 fewer jobs, bringing wage and salary employment to 46,600. A marked loosening in labor supply and demand occurred as as unemployment climbed to 3,000. Current jobless total is 15 per cent above one year ago. Job demand topped last year by 10 per cent.

ALLIANCE: Increase in job seekers during January was the greatest in recent years. Unemployment is expected to mount until weather permits outside work. Labor demand was somewhat higher in January than in December.

BEATRICE: Total number of registered job applicants increased 27 per cent during January. Count of applicants is almost double the usual count at this time of year.

COLUMBUS: Number of applicants seeking employment rose to a new high of 699, 150 more than in December and 100 more than in January, 1956.

FREMONT: Labor supply made its usual seasonal increase in January, jumping from 731 to 1,232. This year's count is 100 less than a year ago. The unemployed workers are well scattered throughout the area.

GRAND ISLAND: At the end of January 1,609 people were seeking work through the office. Most of these live in or near the city. Trade led in hiring new workers in January.

HASTINGS: Fewer people called at the office for service this January than a year ago when layoffs were occurring in federal establishments. Demand for workers was somewhat better than expected; 211 were placed. Unemployment claims show increase.

KEARNEY: Curtailment of construction by cold weather caused several hundred construction workers to register with the office. Applications for work doubled January totals of a year ago and are the highest in three years.

McCOOK: January brought heaviest increase in unemployment of any month this winter. Count of active job seekers increased from 303 to 474 during the month.

NEBRASKA CITY: Job applicants exceeded January last year, 1,390 to 969 and increased over last month with 903. The greatest upturn was among unskilled workers. Employers placed orders for more workers than in January, 1956.

NORFOLK: Job-seeker count increased about 20 per cent during January to last year's level. Majority of unemployed are in skilled, semi-skilled and unskilled groups and classified as "seasonal labor."

NORTH PLATTE: Usual post-holiday layoffs added another one hundred job seekers during January to bring the total to 538. A year ago this number was 414. Demand for workers in nonfarm employment was for 200 workers, compared to 145 in January, 1956.

OMAHA: Labor market characterized by increased job applicants, increased unemployment insurance claimants and a decreased demand for workers. Job seeker totals increased from 3,913 to 4,784, or 22 per cent. The Feb. 1 count is also 11 per cent higher than a year ago. Little improvement is expected until weather improves.

SCOTTSBLUFF: Demand for agricultural labor was light. Supply of workers available through the office (901) increased 42 per cent during January, but was about the same as a year ago.

SIDNEY: A total of 1,600 persons contacted the office, a 40 per cent increase over December, but about equal to one year ago. There is a considerable increase in local job seekers.

Weather Ahead

Temperatures will average 6 to 12 degrees above normal, with only minor day to day changes. Normal lows range from about 14 along the northern border to 20 in the southeast, and normal highs from the low 30s in the northeast to the low to middle 40s in the southwest. No precipitation of consequence is expected.

Cry For Reduced Federal Spending Goes On–Harrison

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Harrison (R-Neb) said that "never before in my service in the House of Representatives have I heard as much talk from high officials of both parties about the need for reduced government spending and reduced federal taxes."

Harrison, in his weekly newsletter, said that "largely due to increased defense spending, the budget is getting out of hand again."

"I heartly agree that we in Congress should get our butcher knives out and prepare to cut every waste penny we can find," he added.

Harrison wrote that "if Prime Minister Nehru of India isn't the biggest hyprocrite in the world, I don't know who is. For years he has been preaching to the western nations about their wicked imperial and colonial policies. . .Now he annexes Kashmir, whose predominantly Mohammedan population prefers union with Pakistan."

POSTCARD

It is strawberry season in Mexico. The weather has been unusually good. Dry and cool and sunny.

This morning I was on my way to the Bamer Hotel roof garden for breakfast when who should I run into but Senor Salvador Lopez, the taxi driver.

The last time I rode with Salvador, we ran into a truck at 60 miles per hour. In Mexico transportation is hazardous.

☆ ☆ ☆

He said the cab drivers of Mexico are "muy discontentos." Cost of living is climbing but cab fares remain the same.

There are now 8200 taxis in Mexico City. By next month there will be 10,000. You can compare this with Manhattan's 6500. Or Sydney, Australia with a meager 2000.

The city is now 4,000,000. But not many people can afford taxis.

We have demanded from the Government a raise in tariffs," he said. "But the answer is no. The drivers are poor."

☆ ☆ ☆

The taxi prices are very low for anyone in the dollar scale. About 20 cents is average for a ride of 20 blocks.

Taxi drivers are not tipped in Mexico. While the cabs are colored—red or yellow—there is no company. The car belongs to the driver. Or he rents it by the day.

Salvador said he had to make 100 pesos a day, $8 U.S. to keep a family with five children. Drivers without cars rent them at 40 pesos a day and must buy the gasoline. At an average of three pesos a ride, it is a rough hustle.

☆ ☆ ☆

Taxis of Mexico now have meters. You pay the meter fare plus 50 centavos. Or if the cab comes from a taxi stand, one peso extra.

There is no sign in the cab to indicate this increase. And tourists and taxi drivers are in a constant bi-lingual battle.

"You sell a gringo peanuts for 5000 pesos," said Salvador. "But if he thinks you are stealing 50 centavos, he hates the country."

The Department of Tourism is thinking of putting signs in the cabs in English. Explaining this differential in the legal fare and the taxi meter. So far, though, they are just thinking about it.

☆ ☆ ☆

Before the meters, taxi hiring was a wonderful daily tussle. We stopped the cab and made the deal while Mexico's wild traffic swirled all around.

"Downtown, how much?"

"Three pesitos." (Little pesos implying the meagerness of the charge.)

This was our cue to clap a hand on the forehead crying:

"Ay! Two pesos, man!' (Two BIG pesos.)

The problem was then solved at two and a half. It established a friendly relation between two men of business. And all the way down we could discuss taxes and the lottery.

The only vestige of this left is the one-finger taxi. The one-finger taxi drives along a standard route like the Reforma. The driver waves one finger in the air. This means he will pick up as many passengers as he can hold for a peso apiece.

This is a kind of community deal. All the passengers helping the driver by holding one finger outside the cab too.

Nebraskans Talk, Over Drought Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sens. Hruska and Curtis said they had met with Farm Home Administrator Kermit Hansen and that special efforts are being made to make the administration's emergency loan program more applicable to conditions faced by Nebraska farmers.

They said Hansen is considering situations not covered by the emergency program when set up in 1953 but which have arisen from the drought in Nebraska corn and hog areas.

MOSCOW (AP)—Scientists at the Abkhazian Institute of Languages have identified carvings on a slab of marble recovered from the Black Sea near Sukhumi as dating back to the Fifth Century B.C.

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Dr. John Ryder, dean of engineering at Michigan State, says tomorrow's engineer must really be progressive. "He must believe that if a device works it already is obsolete," says Dr. Ryder.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Miller (R-Neb) predicted that the National Guard controversy will end in a compromise.

Bar Files Complaint Against Omahan

A State Bar Assn. complaint filed with the State Supreme Court charges former Douglas County Attorney James J. Fitzgerald with failure to "uphold the honor and to maintain the dignity of the profession."

The complaint, filed Wednesday, was based upon a court of inquiry conducted by the Bar Association in the Fourth Judicial District in connection with income tax evasion charges against Fitzgerald.

There is another James J. Fitzgerald in Omaha—James J. Fitzgerald Jr., senior partner in the law firm of Fitzgerald, Hamer, Brown and Leahy. James J. Fitzgerald Jr., said he is not a relative of the Fitzgerald charged in the Bar Association complaint and has not had any past or present business relations with him.

The complaint stated Fitzgerald had been charged with failure to file an income tax return for the years 1947 through 1954. He had pleaded no contest before the late Federal District Judge James Donohoe and was fined $750.

The complaint asks that the Supreme Court "consider the complaint . . . and order such disposition . . . as the court in the premises deems necessary, fitting and proper."

For Dandruff-Itchy Scalp She Says Baker's Best

WAYNE, Nebr. — Miss Marie Hoffman says: "I didn't think anything would do what Baker's Hair Tonic has done for me. It really does the job on dandruff and itchy scalp, and is so easy and pleasant to use. I want others troubled with dandruff, who doubt the merit of Baker's to get the same wonderful surprise I got."

The Maker's Guarantee:
Baker's Hair Tonic will do the job on dandruff and itchy scalp.

IS IT REALLY THAT BAD?

Sen. Kathleen Foote asked why the Statehouse tower is closed to visitors until April and Sen. Terry Carpenter ventured this reply:

"It's just a precaution to prevent those people affected by drought and taxation from jumping out of there."

Sen. Foote told her legislative colleagues she presumes they, too, have constituents who come to Lincoln and are disappointed at not being able to visit the capitol tower.

Canine Rescuers

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP)—The dog may be man's best friend, but he doesn't do badly by his own breed at times, Mr. and Mrs. Horatio Wilson will testify. When a puppy fell into their fishpond and was unable to climb out, two other pups barked encouragement and howled for help until a neighbor heard the racket and effected a rescue, the Wilsons said.

Britain Agrees To Give Up Bases In Jordan And Evacuate 2,000 Soldiers

AMMAN (INS)—Britain agreed Wednesday to give up her bases in Jordan and evacuate 2,000 soldiers by next Oct. 1.

A joint communique announced termination by April 1 of the 1948 treaty under which Britain maintained bases and stationed troops in Jordan in return for an annual $33,600,000 subsidy to King Hussein's country.

Negotiators in Amman agreed to give Britain six months in which to complete the evacuation after termination of the treaty.

The British have maintained an armored unit equipped with Centurion tanks, an infantry company, an anti-aircraft battery and some RAF planes in Jordan for some time.

Pruned Down

But strength of the British force has been pruned down gradually since British Lieut. Gen. John Bagot Glubb was ousted by Hussein as commander of Jordan's Arab Legion nearly a year ago.

Negotiations to terminate the nine-year-old treaty began Feb. 4 following the Suez invasion crisis that rocked the Middle East and cemented Arab support for Egypt. Egypt, Syria and Saudi Arabia have promised to pay Jordan $36,000,000 annually to compensate for the British subsidy it has lost.

King Hussein is scheduled to confer with other Arab leaders soon on the subsidy problem.

Mr. Tolhurst died Wednesday. Born at Unadilla, Neb., he had lived all his life in Nebraska. From 1908 to 1933, when he moved to Raymond, he was a resident of Elmwood, Neb. He was a member of the Methodist Church and the Masonic Lodge, both at Elmwood.

Surviving are a son, James Tolhurst of Raymond; daughters, Mrs. Mary Gonzales of Silver Springs, Md., Mrs. Harriet Jeanne Volpe of Raymond, and Mrs. Barbara Hansen of Lincoln; a sister, Mrs. Grace Blessing of Murdock, Neb.; and eight grandchildren.

Routine Check Apprehends Pen Escapee

A Nebraska State Penitentiary escapee, reportedly attempting to flee to Kansas City, Mo., was apprehended Wednesday morning at 56th and O in a car with two companions.

Police Chief Joe Carroll said the car was stopped for a "routine check" and one of its occupants recognized as Francis L. Mitchell, 43, who had walked away from a prison work detail at the Orthopedic Hospital Feb. 7.

He had been sentenced to the penitentiary in May, 1954, from Washington County on a breaking and entering charge. Mitchell's male companion in the car was released, but a 44-year-old Omaha woman who was with him was held in custody.

Charges of being an accessory after the fact are expected to be filed against her. Charges of escaping custody were filed against Mitchell several days ago and he is to be arraigned soon.

While serving a previous sentence, Mitchell and a companion sawed their way out of the penitentiary with a smuggled hacksaw in 1944. In 1954 he was arrested after a burglary attempt near Kennard, Neb. His partner was killed during the capture.

Men's Fellowship Elects Hastings

William C. Hastings has been elected president of the First Presbyterian Church Men's Fellowship.

Other newly-elected officers are Vincent Collura, vice president; Don M. Clark, secretary; and Henry Holtzclaw Jr., treasurer.

Church Schedules Adult Polio Clinic

Adults in the Lincoln area may receive polio inoculations Tuesday, Feb. 26, at a two-hour clinic at Grace Methodist Church, 27th and R.

The clinic, to be held from 7 to 9 p.m., will be supervised by a doctor, with nine or 10 nurses giving vaccine shots.

Adults must write or telephone the church office before reporting for their shots so that enough vaccine and trained help may be supplied. A small charge will be made.

Members of the Grace Methodist adult class are handling arrangements. Dates for second and third shots will be announced later.

All persons receiving inoculations will register on special National Polio Foundation cards so the number and date of their shots can be tabulated.

Irrigation Well Spacing, Registration Bills Move Ahead

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

Two irrigation bills, one requiring registration of wells and the other controlling well spacing, passed their severest tests in easy fashion Wednesday in the Legislature.

From the indicated votes during the passing of the two bills, LB 109 and LB 110, from select file, the road appeared clear for final approval of the measures. This would, however, depend on the governor's signature.

Motions from the floor to indefinitely postpone both bills drew only four votes apiece. The motion to kill LB 109, which provides for the registration of irrigation wells, present and future, was made by Sen. Norman Otto of Kearney.

This attempt was voted down 35-4 with eight not voting. Voting against were Sens. Otto, Dwain Williams of Broken Bow, Harry Pizer of North Platte, and Marvin Lautenschlager of Grand Island.

'Foot In Door'

Sen. Otto called the measure a "foot in the door" to eventual control of underground water.

Sen. Hans O. Jensen of Aurora opposed killing the bill and said it was an important part of the bill "that we continue the study" of underground water."

Another proponent of the measure, Sen. Frank Nelson of O'Neill, cited the necessity of well registration to form a basis for future studies in underground water use.

After the move to kill was lost, the bill was sent to enrollment and review where it will be readied for final reading.

The move to kill LB 110 which regulates the spacing of irrigation wells to 600 feet except those used for domestic purposes was made by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff.

The senator said this measure was "going to put into effect the actual practice of regulation."

Opposition to the kill move came from Sen. Lautenschlager, who said it requires "just what any good farmer would do anyhow."

'A Protection'

The principal introducer of both measures, Sen. Don Thompson of McCook, said the measure is a "protection to those who already have wells. He was backed by Sen. Otto Liebers of Lincoln who said the bill was the "first link in a sound water program in the state."

Carpenter's motion to kill lost, 31-4, with Sens. Otto Pizer, Carpenter, and Arthur Swanson of Holdrege voting on the minority side.

Platte Valley irrigators were said to be the prime mover behind the kill moves on both bills.

Committee Holds Foreclosure Bill

The Legislature's Judiciary Committee Wednesday considered LB 306 but took no action on the measure, which would forbid foreclosures on the strength of tax liens on lands in which minerals are situated.

The bill, introduced by Sen. David Tews, was held over by the committee for further study.

School Boards Oppose 'Force' In Mergers

NORFOLK, Neb. (AP) — The Nebraska Rural School Boards Assn. Wednesday by resolution expressed its vigorous opposition to any move to "force us" into reorganization programs.

But, the resolution continued, the Association will continue to work to meet the standards of the State Education Department "as our own people see fit in accord with present legislation."

The resolution urged all county reorganization groups to act now to prepare comprehensive plans and report whether reorganization would result in better education for all children without working any hardships "either financial or otherwise" for anyone.

The Association reaffirmed its belief the office of the state commissioner of education should be elective and not appointive and expressed opposition to any increase in high school tuition rates.

Robert Brockman of Cuming County was re-elected secretary-treasurer for a three-year term and Broken Bow was awarded the 1958 meeting.

4 Rail Board Bills Leave Committee

The Legislature's Miscellaneous Subjects Committee Wednesday advanced to general file four measures involving State Railway Commission procedures.

The bills, LB's 452, 453, 454 and 455, are aimed at bringing existing Commission statutes up to date, the Commission said, and were unopposed at the hearing.

Fraternity At NU Plans Award For Newspaperwomen

Theta Sigma Phi, women's professional journalism fraternity at the University of Nebraska, will present eight awards to Nebraska women journalists at an annual banquet it plans to sponsor April 6.

The awards will go to newspaperwomen nominated by their editors and publishers for spot news stories, features and women's page articles they have written.

One woman from a daily newspaper and one from a weekly will receive a scroll as winner in each of the three writing categories.

"Journalist of the Year" plaques will go to two of those six women, one from the daily field and one from the weekly.

Beverly Deepe of Carleton said the awards are made "to focus attention on the contribution being made by Nebraska newspaperwomen and in so doing to encourage more girls to consider journalism as a career."

May Wins Decree From Actress Anne Bancroft

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Actress Anne Bancroft's husband divorced her because her devotion to her theatrical career overshadowed her love for him.

Martin A. May, a wealthy, 33-year old building contractor, testified that his wife's dedication to her career robbed him of companionship and resulted in "millions of people tracking in and out of the house."

The 24-year old screen and television actress was not in court for the trial, allowing her husband to obtain the decree by default.

FRANCE EXPECTS TO USE SUEZ CANAL

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau said Wednesday he believes Egypt will let French ships through the Suez Canal once the waterway is cleared.

A reporter questioned him about Monday's British announcement that Egypt had given assurance through the U.N. that it would not interfere with British shipping in the canal.

Pineau said "I think it will be the same for us." He added, however, that France does not yet have any specific assurance on this point.

Stocks Make Biggest Rise Since Nov. 1

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market Wednesday wiped out more than half its heavy losses of the past two sessions and staged an advance not exceeded since last Nov. 1.

Wall Street called it "a technical rally," meaning there was no particular news to breed a wave of optimism but that the market was rebounding from an oversold condition.

Rebound it did—with gains running to as much as $4 or so in pivotal stocks.

Based on the rise in the Associated Press average, the market recouped an estimated $2,780,000,000 of the $5,100,000,000 estimated loss in the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange in the past two days.

The AP 60-stock average was up $2.30 to $170.30 but the advance was not enough to lift it above the 1956 low of $171.60.

The industrial component was up $3.80, the rails $2.60 and the utilities 30 cents.

Brokers expected a technical recovery for no other reason than that the prices of many blue chips had been slashed to the point where they would seem attractive. The rally attempt Tuesday got nowhere, but Wednesday the market was higher from the start and kept going higher. There was never much doubt about where it was going.

Volume totaled 2,380,000 shares compared with 2,550,000 Tuesday. The trading, though fairly lively, was not as heavy as on the past two days of decline.

The rise in the average was equal to a rally last Dec. 3 but was not bettered since Nov. 1 when President Eisenhower relieved anxiety by stating that the United States would stay out of the Egyptian strife.

On the American Stock Exchange prices also rose. Volume was 790,000 compared with 780,000 Tuesday.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—Corporate bond prices closed higher Wednesday with rails, industrials and utilities leading the advance in active trading. Investment quality issues were firm.

U.S. government bonds declined in the over-the-counter market with weakness concentrated in long-range issues. Trading was moderately active. It was the second consecutive session on the downside, interrupted by Lincoln's birthday.

Corporate bond trading increased to $4,860,000 par value from $4,560,000 Tuesday.

Grains End Mixed By Price Reversals

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains closed mixed after a day of price trend reversals on the Board of Trade Wednesday.

The market opened weak, staged a brisk rally and then backed down again toward the finish. Oats, soybeans and new crop wheat finished with gains.

Old crop wheat and corn could make little, if any, progress. Rye gave up all its gains, closing lower, in the last half hour.

Wheat finished ¼ lower to ½ higher, corn ¼ lower to ¾ higher, oats ¾-1⅛ higher, rye ½ to 1 cent lower, soybeans unchanged to ½ higher and lard unchanged to 8 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Chief depressing factor in the market was the longshoremen's strike. Grains had been bought Tuesday on news dispatches saying the strike probably would be averted. They were sold at the opening because negotiations failed to bring a settlement.

This selling wasn't very urgent, however, and buyers got the upper hand before the first hour was out.

Old crop wheat was more upset by the strike along the Atlantic Coast than was soybeans. Grainmen said most soybean exports are made through New Orleans, which is not affected by the strike. At the moment there aren't many soybean oil exports.

If the strike were prolonged, however, it could tie up wheat exports. New crop wheat was not influenced by the strike, responding more to continued dry weather in the Southwest and a five-day outlook for no moisture in that area.

More Records Set In '56 By Bankers Life

New issued and revived insurance was the largest in the 70-year-history of Bankers Life Insurance Company of Nebraska totalling $71,752,245 in 1956, annual reports revealed.

Gain in insurance in force was another new record for the company totalling $37,243,456, and bringing the total at the end of 1956 to $473,534,924.

Total Exceeds $113 Million

Policyowners attending the annual meeting were told that $4,297,689.59 was paid living policyholders and beneficiaries bringing the total of these payments during 70 years of operation to $113,144,134.

Admitted assets of the company increased $7,792,888.84 to a total of $103,047,087.34. Passing the $100 million level for assets was an outstanding event in the company's history.

Further additions were made to the margins of safety available for meeting fluctuations in investment values and for unforeseen adverse conditions sufficient to maintain them at the unusually strong position of more than 10 per cent of total assets.

While mortgages continued to be the principal field for investment, the portfolio was further diversified with the result that the average rate of interest return on invested assets moved up to 3.44 per cent after taxes. Mortality experience was unusually favorable during the year.

With several new policies available, sales of accident and sickness insurance are steadily increasing. The company entered Utah, making a total of 23 states and the District of Columbia in its field of operations.

Rites Thursday For R. C. Cooper, Noted Cattleman

OMAHA—Funeral services for Robert C. Cooper, 64, one of the nation's biggest cattle feeders, will be held at 4 p.m. Thursday at the Crosby-Kunold Mortuary in Omaha. Further services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Methodist Church in Pilger, Neb.

Mr. Cooper lost his life Monday night in a highway accident west of Omaha.

He was in partnership with his son, Jim, of Marshalltown, Ia., and owned farms and cattle feeding operations at Marshalltown, Tennant, Guthrie Center and Ida Grove in Iowa, and at Pilger, Stanton, Ashland and Weeping Water in Nebraska.

A number of tenants and relatives were in partnership with Mr. Cooper feeding cattle. He owned a controlling interest in a bank at Pilger and had oil properties in Texas.

His charities included giving a 72-acre stock farm to the Omaha Home for Boys in 1950.

Beginning farming in 1911 in South Dakota, he was knocked out by the farm depression of the '20s and more than $20,000 in debt. He obtained a job as a livestock order buyer, sold insurance on the side and paid back all he owed.

Surviving are his wife, Hazel D.; a son, Jim; two grandchildren; a brother, Charles of Stanton; and two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Kittle of Ashland and Mrs. Harold Zimmerman of Hastings.

'56 Federal Crop Insurance Loss Topped '55 Mark

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Crop Insurance Corp. lost money on 1956 crops in Iowa, South Dakota and Nebraska.

Drought conditions primarily were responsibile, a spokesman for the government agency said. Biggest losses in Iowa and Nebraska were attributed to damage to corn crops. There was some damage to corn in South Dakota, too, but the largest losses in that state were in wheat.

The spokesman said the agency lost $1,500,000 in Iowa, as compared to a profit of $131,000 in 1955; lost $3,935,000 in Nebraska, as contrasted with a loss of $495,000 in 1955, and lost $1,963,000 in South Dakota where it made a profit of $483,000 in 1955.

These figures, he explained, are not final, since reports from several counties are still to be assessed.

City Well Protection Bill Dies; Substitute Expected

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

A legislative bill authorizing municipalities to prohibit drilling or maintaining water wells within 1,000 feet of municipal water wells was killed Wednesday in the Public Works Committee.

The measure, which would have applied principally to the city of Lincoln, is expected to be replaced with a committee-sponsored bill. The proposed measure would define prior water use for underground water much as it is defined for surface water.

Sen. Fred Waggoner of Lincoln introduced LB 91, the bill that was killed.

Cities Have Priority

Under the Nebraska Constitution, surface water priority is given to municipalities for domestic uses. Agriculture and industry are second and third in the priority rating. These same priorities would apply to underground streams.

The new bill essentially would replace the one killed, strengthening certain provisions.

Two other bills heard in committee were unopposed and sent to general file by unanimous vote. One was LB 95 which would reduce lease periods on saline lands from 21 to 12 years, conforming to lease periods on school lands in the state.

All In Lancaster County

Sen. Otto Liebers of Lincoln told the committee the only saline land in the state is located in Lancaster County and involves a total of 637 acres paying $2,986 a year in rentals.

There are additionally 512 acres in school lands under the saline land definition paying $2,791 a year and 80 acres from which the original plat of Lincoln was taken and on which $444, a year is paid.

As originally established by the federal government, six sections of land contiguous to saline wells were designated saline land and turned over to the state. This originally comprised 72 acres, but most has been sold off, according to Liebers.

To Avoid Menace

The other bill heard by the committee, LB 299, gives cities and villages right of eminent domain or easement of land for the purpose of avoiding a menace to travel by caving, sliding or washing of land.

Such rights also are provided for improving, maintaining or changing any road, street, alley or other public highway.

Principal introducer of LB 299 was Sen. Don Thompson of McCook, with Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth a co-signer.

Sens. D. J. Cole of Merriman and Liebers introduced LB 95.

Water Users Association Opposes Bill

Special to The Star

GRAND ISLAND — The board of directors of the Nebraska Water Users Association, meeting here Wednesday, unanimously opposed LB 91, a measure which would give municipalities authority to prohibit drilling or maintenance of water wells within 1,000 feet of municipal water wells.

The bill, introduced by Sen. Fred Waggoner of Lincoln, was killed Wednesday afternoon by the Public Works Committee.

Louis Holmes of Grand Island, secretary of the Water Users Association, said the board also passed three resolutions concerning LB 109.

Requires Fee

This measure, introduced by Sen. Don Thompson of McCook, requires the registration of irrigation wells and payment of a $7.50 fee.

Holmes said the resolutions passed were:

1. That it is imperative to establish local control and regulation by county or conservancy districts.
2. That any size registration fee absolutely should be earmarked and set aside for scientific water research even though the money has to pass through the general fund for purposes of accounting.
3. That each $5 paid prior for well registration should be credited to the farmer who has paid it to eliminate duplication.

Favor Separation

Holmes said the entire board was unanimous in support of legislation to separate irrigation from the Department of Roads and Irrigation creating a separate department with the suggested name of "Department of State Water Resources."

He said the concensus of opinion among the group is that water is too important to Nebraska's agricultural economy and the Department of Roads is too big and important to continue their present status as one department.

Business Firms' Tax Inventories Must Be Same

A rule calling on business firms when filling out personal property tax returns for county assessors to report the same inventories as listed in their federal income tax returns was approved by the Nebraska State Board of Equalization.

The action was reported by State Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington who said the state would be able to check income tax returns to determine if the rule is being followed. The state tax assessment period starts March 1.

Herrington said it is believed the new rule would result in more personal property being listed, thus easing the load on real estate.

Also put before the board was a Herrington proposal for a new formula on estimating total taxable valuations of motor vehicles. He suggests each county this year take last year's valuations and reduce them by 10 per cent. This, he said, would take into account the drop brought about by the basic value assessment law and other adjustments in motor vehicle tax regulations.

'58 GOP Victory Possible—Seaton

BOSTON (AP)—Interior Secretary Seaton said the Republican party can win control of Congress in 1958 if it "can convince the American people that its candidates are like the President—like him in principle and like him in practice."

The GOP platform is the bridge which joins Dwight D. Eisenhower with his party, and which joins every other Republican," Seaton declared in an address here.
